By using Canadian ports and railways it will be possible to deliver immense shipments to Alaskan ports along sheltered water routes and entail a big saving in shipping since the Canadian ports are much nearer Alaska than Seattle would be and also less staunch ships could be used.

Many Seek News From Hongkong

LONDON (CP)—Torn with anxiety by news of the Japanese atrocities at Hongkong, relatives of Britons left in that British Pacific bastion besieged the Colonial Office throughout today and tonight in a vain attempt to get information about the fate of their husbands, wives, sons and daughters.

Requests for information poured in by telephone and there were many personal calls by worried relatives who were told there was no news.

Killed in Action

P.O. WILLIAM (BILL) DAKERS, R.C.A.F., a native son of Victoria, has been killed on active service. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dakers, 235 St. Andrew's Street, received word, Tuesday, of their son's death. Bill was born in Victoria 20 years ago and lived here all his life. He attended South Park and Victoria High school, joining the R.C.A.F. in February, 1941. He received his wings in October and on his arrival in Victoria on leave received his commission as Pilot Officer. He left the city for overseas service at the beginning of November. In Victoria he was prominent in athletics, especially rugby and lacrosse. He leaves at home, besides his parents, one sister, Irma. His father, widely known in the city as Joe Dakers, was recently appointed chief examining officer of Canadian Customs at Victoria. In his younger days he was a star athlete. He served in the first World War and won the M.C.

Britain Sends Cripps to India

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill repeated today Britain's promise of Dominion status for imperilled India after the war, and announced that, his ranking aide, Sir Stafford Cripps, would go to India as an emissary to seek assurance that a precise plan already drafted by London would gain general Indian acceptance. (See text of Churchill's statement on page 2.)

The promise of Indian self-government within the British Commonwealth of Nations after the war, first made in August, 1940, so far has failed to mollify Indian Nationalists.

Detailed Plan Offered for Debate

But Mr. Churchill, in a long-awaited statement to the House of Commons, disclosed the government, in order to "clothe these general declarations with precision and to convince all classes, races and creeds in India of our sincere resolve," had gone a step forward and agreed to a detailed plan.

He did not disclose the exact nature of the concessions by which the government hopes to win the loyalty of India's 350,000,000 peoples for the defence of the rich sub-continent now threatened by the Japanese advance in Burma and to the Indian Ocean.

Sir Stafford, who returned from the ambassadorship to Russia to become Lord Privy Seal and leader of the Commons, and who is known as a proponent of Indian self-government, has the task to procure in India "the necessary measure of assent, not only from the Hindu majority, but also from those great minorities amongst which the Moslems are the most numerous, and on many grounds pre-eminent," Mr. Churchill announced.

Military Measures To Be Studied

Sir Stafford will also confer with Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, the commander in India, on the military situation.

Mr. Churchill plainly indicated the cabinet had struggled with a thorny problem, with the majority Congress Party in India demanding unconditional freedom for all India, and leaders of the Moslem minority, from whom Britain draws some of her best Indian fighting men, threatening on the other hand to revolt if they are not granted a special autonomous status.

The cabinet had reached conclusions as to how these clashing views could be reconciled while a new constitution is being set up, he said, but he did not disclose what they were.

Cripps Mission Cheered By M.P.'s

The announcement Sir Stafford would go to India brought cheers from the House. It also choked off impending debate. Emanuel Shinwell, Labor, asked if Sir Stafford's discussions in India would proceed "on the basis of the government declaration of 1940 or will the matter be left quite open?"

"The discussion will proceed on the basis of the new conclusions at which the war cabinet has unitedly arrived," Mr. Churchill responded.

It was believed that at least three months would be required for Sir Stafford to complete his conferences in India. He plans to leave immediately.

P.O. W. A. Cross Missing Overseas

Sgt. Pilot W. A. Cross, R.C.A.F., 26, son of W. Cross, 2738 Higgins Avenue, is missing following action overseas. His wife, Mrs. W. A. Cross, 916 Empress Avenue, received the news Monday.

Pilot Cross joined the R.C.A.F. in 1940, receiving his wings in May, 1941. While home on leave he married the former Miss Lois Keeler. He went overseas last summer.

He was born in Victoria and educated at Oaklands and Victoria High School. Before joining up he worked at Cecil Eve motors.

New Australian Gun

Weapons aren't always produced in laboratories. Here is Australian's famous Owen sub-machine gun, invented by Evelyn Owen, 27-year-old private. The gun weighs 10½ pounds and costs less than $20. After 300 rounds, a button releases the hot barrel at the touch of a finger and a flick of the wrist removes the spent magazine, another with 30 rounds is in place a fraction of a second later. Maximum firing time is 30 rounds in three seconds.

British Planes Attack Tirpitz Off Norway

LONDON (CP)—The 35,000-ton German battleship Tirpitz was attacked by fleet air arm torpedo planes Monday off the coast of Norway, it was announced today.

The Tirpitz, thus reported in action for the first time, is a sister-ship of the Bismarck, sunk in the north Atlantic last May by British warships and planes.

The Tirpitz last was seen retiring under the cover of a heavy smoke screen toward the Norwegian coast, the Admiralty communiqué said.

ENEMY SURPRISED

The communiqué said the warship put out of Trondheim and took a northward course, but was sighted by reconnaissance planes and then attacked by the torpedo planes.

"It was not possible to observe the result of this attack," said the Admiralty.

The Tirpitz, 792 feet in length, carries eight 15-inch guns. Reports have given her speed as 30 knots.

Presidential Decree

Brazil Ready To Declare War

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—President Getulio Vargas issued a decree today giving himself the authority to declare a state of war or a state of emergency throughout Brazil in case of foreign menace, imminence of internal disturbance or existence of a plan of conspiracy.

Promptly answering the torpedoing of the fourth Brazilian ship off the United States coast in three weeks, the decree cleared the way for imprisonment of Axis subjects and seizure of Axis property.

Orders for seizure of Axis property were expected within 48 hours.

The decree, issued as Brazil was experiencing increasing shipping losses as a result of Axis submarine activity off the United States Atlantic coast, declared that "from the time the use of the armed forces for the defence of the state becomes necessary, the President will declare a state of war in all national territory, or in part of it."

TO END PLOTTING

Any endangering of the country's institutions or the safety of its citizens, or territory, is sufficient cause for the President to declare a state of emergency in the whole country, or any part of it, the decree provides.

All constitutional guarantees relating to the lives and property of citizens of foreign states which may have "practiced acts of aggression harmful to the Brazilian state," would thereby be suspended, the decree says.

At the same time the government shipping line, Lloyd Brasileiro, announced that suspension of all sailings of Brazilian ships to the United States had been ordered by the government and all such ships en route to United States ports ordered recalled home.

(Brazil's shipping losses in the first Great War led her to declare war against Germany.)

Major J. R. Bowler Believed Drowned

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj. J. Reg. Bowler, Dominion secretary of the Canadian Legion and formerly of Winnipeg, was believed today to have drowned in the Ottawa River.

A hat belonging to him was recovered today from a spot near where two mill workers reported seeing a man fall into the river from the Chaudiere Bridge which connects Ottawa and Hull. He had been in ill health for some time as a result of serious injuries received during service in the first Great War which necessitated amputation of his left arm. Only last December he underwent a severe operation necessitated by his wounds.

14-Year Sentences

LONDON (CP)—Herbert Morrison, Minister of Home Security, speaking in the House of Commons today, said the maximum term of imprisonment for black market operations had been raised to 14 years.

Australians Batter Jap Invasion Fleet

NEW JAP THRUSTS INDICATE AUSTRALIA INVASION ATTEMPT — Mapped here are newest threats to Australia, with Japanese thrusts in Java (1) Timor (2) and New Guinea (3) indicating an invasion attempt is imminent. Japanese troops, landed on the north coast of New Guinea, are 425 miles from the Australian continent. Conquest of the island would bring them within 100 miles of Australia, across the Torres Strait.

CANBERRA (AP)—Beating violently at Japanese invasion flotillas which nevertheless apparently still were being marshaled above the mainland, the Royal Australian Air Force reported tonight that seven enemy ships were known to have been sunk or damaged and two others probably damaged in the waters of New Guinea.

Of that number two ships definitely were sunk, four were set afire and one was beached, said an official announcement listing results of a series of smashing assaults on Japanese ship concentrations in the harbor of Salamaua, on New Guinea's east coast.

But even as the air arm continued its running counter-offensive action a large new Japanese convoy was reported heading for Port Moresby on the southern New Guinea coast, in an area only 300 miles from Cape York on the Australian mainland.

The Australian Associated Press observed the government had no denial to offer of these reports.

New Air Assaults On Port Moresby

Port Moresby likewise was under new enemy aerial assault, 12 bombers participating in this thrust, although there was no immediate announcement of damage there.

The onslaught against the Japanese warships was described in the communiqué as "one of the heaviest aerial attacks so far launched in the New Guinea area." It said "direct hits were scored on a warship, which was either a cruiser or a large destroyer," and added:

"When the aircraft left the target area one ship was burned out and three others were on fire. Two of them were sinking and one was being beached."

The Sydney Sun reported that at least one of the ships—an 8,000-ton transport—was sunk. Other reports said six direct hits with heavy bombs were scored on another of the vessels.

The Sun reported R.A.A.F. pilots dived 400 feet for the machine-gunning, bombing on onslaught, from which all planes returned safely.

The need for an offensive spirit was stressed by Lt. Gen. Vernon Sturdee, chief of the general staff. In a message to the troops he declared Australia's enemies "are not bound by sporting methods and the spirit of fair play. If they adopt the gangster code, we must do likewise to succeed."

"Let us root out all defeatist tendencies."

In the dying battle of Java, Imperial Tokyo headquarters asserted the Japanese had captured 93,000 troops, including 2,000 officers, in the Indies' invasion—a scaling down of Tuesday's claim of 98,000 taken in Java alone.

Jap Spokesman Makes Threat

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts, AP)—An assertion that Australia will suffer the fate of the Netherlands East Indies if she "continues her present attitude toward Japan" was sounded today by a spokesman for the Japanese information board.

Dornet quoted the spokesman as saying "continued resistance will result in nothing but disaster and suffering for the Australian people such as has just been experienced by the Netherlands East Indies."

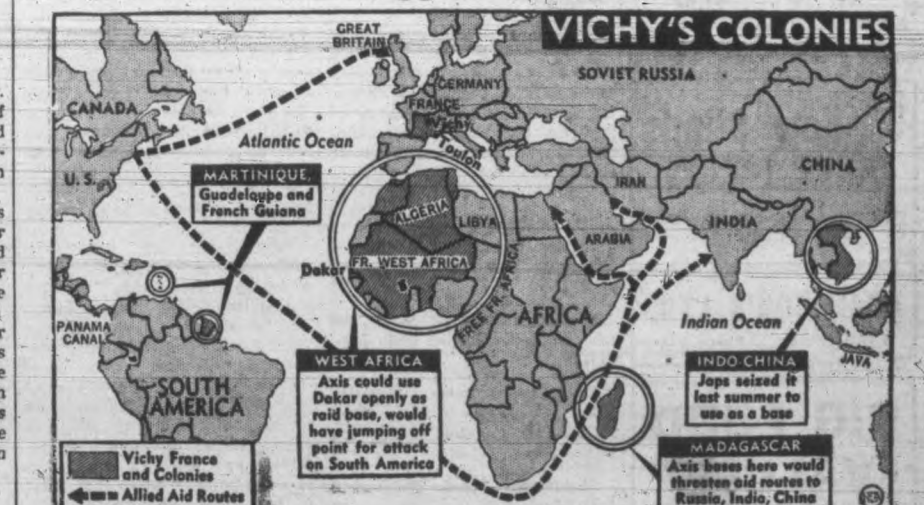

Think Co-operation Will Outlive War

TORONTO—That Great Britain, United States and Russia can continue working together in the vitally important postwar adjustment years is the belief of a big majority of those in England, according to latest returns from a British Gallup Poll cabled to the affiliated Canadian Institute of Public Opinion.

The British Institute asked the question: "Do you think it possible that England, United States and Russia will continue working together after the war?"

Sixty per cent of those interviewed in a scientifically-selected cross-section of the British public replied yes, 17 per cent no, and 23 per cent were undecided.

Stakes in World's Biggest Poker Game

The chips are down in the Vichy poker game following Britain's terrific bombing of industrial sections surrounding Paris. Strategic prizes the Axis would gain by complete surrender of Vichy are the navy and colonies controlled by Petain's government. Map shows how possession of Vichy's colonies would put Axis bases astride allied aid routes. Addition of French fleet units still in Vichy's hands, would bring Axis close to naval parity with the U.S. and Britain.

LONDON (CP)—British bombers battered industrial areas of Germany's Ruhr Valley Tuesday night for the third night in succession in a new aerial offensive of gathering power.

An Air Ministry communique said observation of results of the bombing was made difficult by poor visibility, but that "a considerable weight of bombs was dropped on an industrial area."

Four planes are missing, the ministry said.

Britain Offers Detailed Plan For India Dominion After War

LONDON (AP)—The text of the statement on the Indian question made in the House of Commons today by Prime Minister Churchill follows:

The crisis in the affairs of India, arising out of the Japanese advance has made us wish to rally all forces of Indian life to guard their land from the menace of the invader.

In August, 1940, a full statement was made about the aims and policy we are pursuing in India. This amounted in short to a promise that, as soon as possible after the war, India should attain dominion status in full freedom and equality with this country and the other Dominions, under a constitution to be framed by the Indians by agreement among themselves and acceptable to the main elements in Indian national life.

All Minorities Must Be Safeguarded

This was, of course, subject to the fulfilment of our obligations for the protection of minorities, including the depressed classes, and of our treaty obligations to the Indian states and to settlement of certain lesser matters arising out of our long association with the fortunes of the Indian sub-continent.

However, in order to clothe these general declarations with precision and to convince all classes, races and creeds in India of our sincere resolve, the war cabinet have agreed unitedly upon conclusions for present and future action which, if accepted by India as a whole, would avoid the alternative dangers—either that resistance of a powerful minority might impose an indefinite veto upon this wish of the majority, or that a majority decision might be taken which would be resisted to a point destructive of internal harmony and fatal to the setting up of a new constitution.

We had thought of setting forth immediately the terms of this attempt of a strong contribution to aid India in the realization of full self-government. We are, however, apprehensive that to make a public announcement at such a moment as this might do more harm than good.

All Efforts Needed for Defence

We must first assure ourselves that our scheme would win a reasonable and practical measure of acceptance, and thus promote the concentration of all Indian thought and energies upon the defence of the native soil.

We should ill-serve the common cause if we made a declaration which would be rejected by essential elements in the Indian world and which would provoke fierce communal disputes at the moment when the enemy is at the gates of India.

We propose to send a member of the war cabinet to India to satisfy himself upon the spot by personal consultation that the conclusions upon which we are agreed and which we believe represent a just and final solution will achieve their purpose.

The Lord Privy Seal and leader of the House (Sir Stafford Cripps) has volunteered to undertake this task. He carries with him the full confidence of the government and he has in his name to procure the necessary measure of assent, not only from the Hindu majority but also from those great minorities amongst which the Moslems are the most numerous and on many grounds pre-eminent.

Will Confer On Defence Measures

The Lord Privy Seal will at the same time consult with the Viceroy and the commander-in-chief upon the military situation, bearing always in mind the paramount responsibility of His Majesty's government by every means in their power to shield the people of India from the perils which beset them.

We must remember that India has a great part to play in the world struggle for freedom and that her help must be extended in loyal comradeship to follow the Chinese people who have fought alone.

We must remember also that India is one of the bases from which the strongest counter-blows must be struck at the advance of tyranny and aggression.

Envoy Moves Without Delay

The Lord Privy Seal will set out as soon as it is convenient and as soon as suitable arrangements can be made. I am sure he will command in his task the heartfelt good wishes of all parts of the House and, meanwhile, that no words will be spoken or debates held here or in India which should add to the burden he has assumed in his mission or lessen the prospects of a good result.

In the Lord Privy Seal's absence from this House his duties as leader will be discharged by the Foreign Secretary.

supplied by the federal government, which already maintains at strategic points throughout the province large emergency medical and surgical supplies."

Radio Blackout, Alert in S. California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Air raid wardens and emergency units in this region were mobilized shortly before dawn today by an alert order, but the 4th interceptor command gave an all-clear signal an hour and six minutes later without decreeing a general blackout.

In San Francisco, the western defence command said an "undisputed object" had caused a preliminary, or "yellow," alert at 5:45 a.m. This was changed to a "blue" alert at 6:03 a.m. The "blue" signal mobilizes all emergency agencies and silences radio broadcasting stations.

The "yellow" alert was effective from Santa Barbara to San Diego counties, the "blue" only in Los Angeles and its neighboring counties on the north and south, Ventura and Orange.

Radio stations returned to the air at 8 a.m. It was the first radio silencing in early two weeks, since the entire metropolitan area was blacked out and anti-aircraft guns fired for a half-hour Feb. 25 at what Secretary of War Stimson said was a flight of enemy commercial airplanes.

Police Convoy Jap Cars From Up-island Thursday

Beginning at Port Alberni and Courtenay, a caravan of Japanese automobiles, growing larger as it passes through each up-island centre, will proceed to Victoria under police escort Thursday.

All cars owned by persons of Japanese race living on Vancouver Island must be turned in to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at the Willows Exhibition Grounds by sunset Thursday.

The convoy will consist of Japanese cars and trucks with 1941 licenses. Japanese owners of cars with 1942 licenses will proceed on their own initiative. It is believed some of them will arrive today. It is estimated there will be approximately 75 cars in the convoy.

The caravan of Japanese cars is being arranged by the B.C. Police, who will provide the escort. The cars will be driven by the owners themselves, who will have to return to their homes at their own expense.

All motor vehicles owned by Japanese living on Vancouver Island will be held in cattle sheds at the Willows. R.C.M.P. said they did not know whether the cars would remain at the Willows for the duration of the war or whether they would be disposed of by a custodian of Japanese property yet to be appointed.

Police said there would probably be some logging trucks and motorcycles turned in but they could not be sure because Japanese may have disposed of them during the last day or so. A number of Victoria Japanese have sold their cars during the past week.

The text of the notice to all persons of Japanese race issued by Inspector C. R. Peters, head of the Vancouver Island section, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, follows:

Under authority of Order-in-Council P.C. 4086 all persons of the Japanese race are hereby notified that they must drive their motor vehicles to the cattle shed in the Willows Exhibition Grounds, off Cadboro Bay Road, and that the deadline for receiving these vehicles will be sunset of March 12, 1942.

Before departure persons of the Japanese race residing in the up-island localities will report themselves to the B.C. Provincial Police office nearest their place of residence, so that they may drive their motor vehicles to Victoria in convoy under direction of the B.C. Provincial Police.

Persons of the Japanese race are reminded that the curfew law is still in effect. These persons should obtain daily the hours of sunrise and sunset from their local newspaper.

On arrival at the Exhibition Grounds in Victoria motor vehicles must be turned over to a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who will give the owner a receipt for his car. Considerable time will be saved if the person has his tire numbers ready to hand to the police and a list of all extra equipment with the car; together with car registration papers, driver's licenses and any and all insurance policies covering the motor vehicle.

R.C.M.P. further clamped down on Vancouver Island Japanese today by ordering an undisclosed number of nationals to leave the island immediately. The nationals will proceed to Vancouver at their own expense.

U.B.C.M. Demands Pledge Be Honored

VANCOUVER (CP)—The executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, in special session here Tuesday, demanded in a resolution that the provincial government stand by its 1940 pledge to exempt municipalities from any portion of the cost of the teachers' superannuation fund.

In its resolution the executive said the government had violated a promise given by the then Premier T. D. Pattullo on Nov. 21, 1940, by imposing pension liabilities on municipal school boards in excess of the $450,000 annual grant the government is making the municipalities.

Livelier Action On Libya Front

CAIRO (AP)—The tempo of the Libyan war has become livelier and the British command reported today "a series of engagements of the enemy" in all of which Axis units were compelled to withdraw although they had artillery and in one case tanks.

This fighting resulted from activities of British patrols, the daily communiqué said.

Although Axis patrols were in strength, they were thrust back, "leaving prisoners in our hands and suffering loss of mechanical transport from our shellfire."

The R.A.F. was credited with effective support of the ground troops.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Free French forces raiding Italian positions in southwest Libya have destroyed important munitions depots and inflicted serious damage on the Fascist outposts, the Free French radio at Brazzaville, French equatorial Africa, said today.

The broadcast said the operations, first announced in Cairo last Saturday, have entered the final stage. The Free French forces drove 1200 miles from the Lake Chad region, across the sands of the great Fezzan desert.

Particularly heavy damage was done to the outposts of Witel-Gibia, the radio said.

Italian prisoners were reported arriving behind Free French lines, while the French losses were very small.

The broadcast was heard here by NBC.

Effort to Restore Convictions Fails

EDMONTON (CP)—Application on behalf of the Alberta Attorney-General's Department for an order "staying the entry of the formal judgment" of the Appeal Court of Alberta, which quashed the convictions against 35 Canadian tobacco manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers, was dismissed in a unanimous judgment of four judges of the Alberta Appeal Court handed down today.

The judgment was written by Chief Justice Horace Harvey and concurred in by Justices Frank Ford, H. W. Lunney and A. F. Ewing. The application was heard last week in Calgary.

Convictions against the Canadian tobacco manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers and fines totalling $205,500 imposed last July were quashed Feb. 5 in a judgment written by Mr. Justice Ford and concurred in by the same four judges involved in the judgment released today.

The February judgment of the Appeal Court was handed down under section 32 of the Judicature Act due to the death of Mr. Justice A. H. Clark in Calgary, one of the Appeal Court judges who died without having signed the judgment.

The argument stressed by solicitors for the Attorney-General's Department was that "one of the judges who heard the arguments on the appeal having died, no valid judgment could be given."

Jap Atrocities Spur on British

LONDON (CP)—The British press, which continued today to hammer home the significance of the Japanese atrocities at Hong Kong revealed by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, has drawn the sober conclusion that the atrocities would further unite the free peoples to drive them forward in greater resolve to victory.

The London Evening News, which warned that "we shall do ourselves little service if our only answer to the savagery of Hong Kong is a spate of furious words," said the "cries of the suffering in Hong Kong should open our eyes at last to the need for utmost unity, utmost labors and utmost use of all the fighting strength we have... the peoples of the Empire must stand together. It is now or never."

"Without unity all the free peoples... will go down before the wild beasts at large in the world," the paper said. "Without sacrifices sterner than any we have yet made we shall not get the arms we need. Those things must come first. The cry for vengeance on the butchers of Hong Kong is a natural cry, but it must not distract us from looking facts in the face. Vengeance, full vengeance, is not yet within our power."

The Daily Mirror said: "Is not the pitiful message from the slaughtered victims of Hong Kong audibly this:

C. 288 of the 13th January, 1942, and deposits of money, shares of stock, debentures, bonds or other securities), delivered up to any person by the owner pursuant to the Order of the Minister of Justice dated February 26, 1942, or which is turned over to the Custodian by the owner, or which the owner, on being evacuated, is unable to take with him, shall be vested in and subject to the control and management of the Custodian as defined in the Regulations respecting Trading with the Enemy, 1939; provided, however, that no commission shall be charged by the Custodian in respect of such control and management."

"Subject as hereinafter provided, and for the purposes of the control and management of such property, rights and interest by the Custodian, the Regulations respecting Trading with the Enemy, 1939, shall apply mutatis mutandis to the same extent as if such property, rights and interests belonged to any enemy within the meaning of the said Regulations."

"The property, rights and interests so vested in and subject to the control and management of the Custodian, or the proceeds thereof, shall be dealt with in such manner as the Governor in Council may direct."

The above provisions do not apply to fishing vessels, deposits of money, shares of stock, debentures, bonds or other securities, or property required to be delivered to any person by the owner pursuant to the Order of the Minister of Justice dated February 26, 1942, but enable persons of the Japanese race to deliver to the Custodian, before they are evacuated from a protected area, such other property as they have not disposed of and are unable to take with them."

All such other property not disposed of or delivered to the Custodian prior to evacuation automatically comes under the control of the Custodian upon the evacuation of the owner but persons of the Japanese race are urged to report their property immediately instead of waiting until their evacuation as this will enable the Custodian to take prompt action to protect and administer the same."

Forms for setting forth the particulars of such property may be obtained on written application to the undersigned and should be completed as fully as possible by owners of property and mailed to the undersigned without delay.

New Substitute For Rubber

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Homer Pilkinton, 44-year-old farmer, has concocted a material that looks, feels and acts like rubber and has sent samples to the National Inventors' Council to determine whether it may be of value in the war effort.

Pilkinton, who studied chemistry at Heidelberg University, Germany, said the base of the synthetic rubber was an ordinary plant, the name of which he did not disclose. He obtained one sample that was spongy and another that was firm.

No natural rubber was used in its preparation, he said. He mixed chemicals with the plant, experimented in his kitchen and prepared the material on his cookstove at a cost estimated at less than 15 cents a pound.

Ex-Wall Street Man Now Sergeant-Major

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT (CP)—A one-time Wall Street financial tycoon who last year piled up earnings totaling $77,000 sailed with the group of Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen whose safe arrival in Britain was announced Tuesday.

Now a sergeant-major in the Canadian army, W. D. Stewart of New York City said he liked his new life "just fine," and "wouldn't go back to Wall Street for the world."

Stewart said he was married and had three children. "They are still in New York, living with my father. He too fought under the Union Jack, being a member of the Black Watch in Scotland."

Idaho Makes Profits On Jackrabbit Pelts
CAREY, Idaho (AP)—Jackrabbits, the long-eared, high-hopping crop devourers which long have plagued western farmers—today are worth cash money to anybody who can shoot straight enough to hit them.

Pelts of the animals virtually worthless a few months ago, now bring 60 to 75 cents a pound. With the coming of war, Australia, principal supplier of the rabbit hide industry, curtailed shipments, and within a few weeks the price of jackrabbit pelts began to jump like the animals the skins once covered.

Some of the fur dealers foresee a $1,000,000 industry for the state in jackrabbit hides, for the supply is virtually unlimited, inasmuch as the pelts are prime only during the winter, leaving nearly eight months for the prolific animals to replenish their ranks.

Hitler's Round-up for Offensive

Nazis Force Vassal States To Provide New Armies

BERNE (AP)—Germany's mobilization of the entire Axis manpower for a gigantic spring offensive now is in full swing, reports reaching Berne from various parts of Europe indicate.

In Germany itself, almost all men able to carry arms are already in the army, but the recent visit of Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel to Hungary and Slovakia is beginning to bear results in the form of approximately 1,500,000 fresh troops.

Up to the present these two Allies had supplied only a handful of soldiers for the Russian campaign. Slovakia had furnished about 27,000 and Hungary not more than one or two divisions.

UP TO 46
In Hungary, notices have just been posted mobilizing all men up to 46 years of age. Many of these men have never had military training because of the Tripartite Treaty, which limited Hungary's army to 35,000.

However, in a country with a population of 14,000,000 a mobilization of this scope means that at least 1,000,000 men will be eligible for service. In addition there are 500,000 men who have received training since the treaty was denounced.

Slovakia, with a population of 3,500,000, has been told she must furnish 100,000 men. Most of them are already under arms and have received some training.

DEMANDS ON ITALY

Italy has been called on to deliver many more troops than she has yet sent to the eastern front, and these as quickly as possible. Some reports mention a figure of 1,000,000, but this is unverified.

Rumania already has about 1,000,000 men in the field, her maximum capacity. It is not known whether Bulgaria will declare war on Russia and send forces to aid in the campaign. It is known, however, that Axis staff officers held discussions with Bulgarian leaders in recent weeks.

MUST REGISTER

Men of German blood are being mobilized in the occupied countries. All Germans between 20 and 42 in the German-occupied provinces of French Lorraine have been ordered to register before March 21. German leaders in Yugoslavia have ordered all Germans fit for military service to register.

There were about 500,000 Germans in Yugoslavia before the occupation, but many of those in Croatia have already been mobilized.

No Two-pants Suits

Canada Follows U.S. Clothes Bans

OTTAWA (CP)—Sharp restrictions which will eliminate frills in men's and boys' clothing, sportswear and waterproof clothing are contained in orders made public Monday night by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

In general, specifications restrict the amount of cloth which may be used by eliminating fancy designs, patch pockets, trouser cuffs, pleats and double-breasted coats. Only one pair of trousers is allowed with each suit. The orders are explained in the preambles as "necessary to conserve materials and labor."

DATES SET

The orders follow similar steps announced in the United States last Tuesday.

First of the four Canadian orders to take effect is that containing specifications which must be followed by manufacturers of sportswear after April 10.

Restrictions in men's and boys' clothing, other than made-to-measure, and waterproof clothing, are effective May 1, while specifications for made-to-measure men's and boys' clothing take effect Aug. 1.

Designs for men's sack coats must eliminate belting, biswings or pleated backs; patch pockets and inside bellows; vents in either the sides or back; cash pockets; arm shields, real or imitation buttonholes, and chain stitching on the sleeves; cuffs on sleeves; double-breasted sack coats or tuxedo coats, and buttons on the sleeves.

LENGTHS SPECIFIED

The coat length for size 38 is limited to 29½ inches and other sizes will conform.

For vests the ban includes back straps, inside breast pockets, pencil pockets, double-breasted vests and collars.

Restrictions are applied to the length and width of trouser legs, with trousers for size 32 waist not to exceed 19½ inches in width at the bottom.

Watch pockets will be missing in the cuffless trousers and with them will go such things as extension waistbands, flaps on back pockets, back or side straps, high English type backs and raised seams.

On sports jackets and tropical suits two patch pockets will be permissible.

Restrictions for boys' suits follow those governing men's designs.

Men's overcoats, taking size 38 as a standard, must not exceed 46 inches in length, with a sweep of 56 inches for single-breasted coats and 60 inches for double-breasted types.

NO OVERCOAT BELTS

On the banned list for overcoats are: all-round belts, cuffs and tabs on the sleeves, buttons on the sleeves, throat or collar tabs and bellows pockets and facings.

Similar restrictions are applied to spring and fall topcoats. Variations in length and sizing of all specifications are permissible only when they are necessitated by actual physical requirements of individuals.

MAIL LOST AT SEA

OTTAWA (CP)—The Post Office Department announces word has been received of the loss, due to enemy action, of a westbound steamship expected to reach Canada with 906 bags of mail. The department said it made the announcement because of anxiety which will be felt by the addressees when letters and parcels which they have expected fail to arrive.

R.A.F. CANADIANS HONORED BY KING

By LOUIS V. HUNTER

LONDON (CP)—Two Canadian members of the R.A.F.

whose heroism earned them prized decorations, received their awards from the King at a recent investiture in Buckingham Palace. Security reasons prevented disclosure of this fact prior to today.

Wing-Commander Thomas Cameron Weir, Winnipeg, was decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross, while F.O. Alexander John Nicholson, 30, Windsor, Ont., whose parents live at Buffalo, N.Y., received the George Medal.

Weir's wife and sister-in-law, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Bannerman of Winnipeg, accompanied him to the investiture.

The citation awarding him the D.F.C. said Weir "constantly displayed great determination, courage and skill, and spared no effort in the endeavor to locate and bomb his objectives."

FEW ALMOST BLIND

It related how a shell burst near the cockpit of Weir's plane during an attack on Krefeld, Germany. "Despite the shock, and with the handicap of being almost blinded by splinters from a broken triplex," Weir flew the aircraft safely back to Britain, it added.

Nicholson was awarded the G.M. for risking his life to drag an airman from a burning aircraft which crashed on its take-off last August.

Although thrown clear of the wreckage, Nicholson, battling through exploding ammunition and flaming gasoline to re-enter the machine and pull a helpless wireless operator to the door. An explosion which occurred as Nicholson was dragging his companion to safety blew them 20 yards from the machine.

'Must Destroy Japan Or Be Destroyed'

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times said editorially today the report of Japanese atrocities given to the British House of Commons by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden "may convince us..." that "this evil thing must be destroyed or it will destroy the world."

"The charges," said the Times, "are shocking. They are not surprising. Like Germany, Japan has started an atrocious war for an atrocious purpose. For Japan, as for Nazi Germany, atrocities are never accidents. They are parts of a design..."

"The United Nations must not and cannot retaliate in kind on Japanese soldiers and civilians now within their lines. We cannot degrade ourselves to the barbarian level. But Hongkong may do for us what the sacking of Nanking did for the Chinese. It may convince us that in today's Japan, as in Nazi Germany, there is a spirit so diabolical that no peace can be made with it on any terms short of unconditional surrender. This evil thing must be destroyed or it will destroy the world."

Alexander Hard-fisted Leader

'Attack, Always Attack,' Says New Burma General

Canadian Press

The last soldier to leave Dunkerque—Lieut. Gen. Harold Alexander—defends today the gates of India, commands the new British line of Burma. His motto is "attack, attack and re-attack."

In the first Great War he went over the top 30 times before he was wounded. At Dunkerque, his story is best told in the last paragraph of Commander-in-Chief Viscount Gort's official dispatches.

By midnight on the 2nd-3rd June, all the remaining British troops had been embarked. Maj. Gen. Alexander, with the senior naval officer (Capt. W. G. Tennant, R.N.) made a tour of the beaches and harbor in a motor boat, and on being satisfied that no British troops were left on shore, they themselves left for England.

Before that, when things were their worst at Dunkerque, Gen. Alexander—dressed in his smartest breeches, shiniest boots and sat at breakfast in a shell-battered house before a table covered with a gleaming tablecloth and embellished with a pot of Dundee marmalade. That was symbolic, for in the last war Scottish troops once made a last-hope charge with the cry: "Marmalade forever!"

Another staff officer told Gen. Alexander "the situation is catastrophic." "Sorry," he replied, "I don't understand long words." Then he went out to superintend the evacuation from the beaches and, watching it, sat down to make a sand castle.

During the battle of the Somme, Gen. Alexander led not only his own Irish Guards but a mixed assemblage of all regiments, and when all the Irish Guards' machine gunners were killed and their battery overrun, he charged back through the enemy lines with his mixed troops and recaptured the guns.

He is 51 and looks little more than 30, of medium height with a clipped mustache.

When Sweden Swings

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

Sweden has long been the rumor factory of Europe. The rumors and reports now emanating from that country must therefore be taken with reserve. But they themselves are another indication of the place occupied by Sweden in this World War II.

In a book which is now selling like hot-cakes in the U.S. ("Defense Will Not Win the War," by Lieut. Col. W. F. Kiernan), Italy is picked as the spot where the United Nations could deal the Axis the most deadly blow. Obviously, when the time comes to attack, the western democracies can strike anywhere from Norway right round the perimeter of Europe.

The Low Countries may once more be what they have so often been before—the cockpit of Europe. But there must also be a strong military school holding out for an attack on Norway. The obvious advantage of an Allied attack on the Germans in Norway is that the forces there could be isolated and deprived of reinforcement. The obvious disadvantage is that even granted complete success—our forces would then be no nearer to Germany itself.

SWEDEN ON SPOT

The government of Sweden is well aware of all these factors. It is well aware that if the democracies decide to liberate Norway by invasion that it would have to refuse transit to German troops. That refusal itself might plunge Sweden into war against the Nazis.

Hence the recent feelers by Sweden's most noted newspaper editor for a Scandinavian peace pact. Under this deal the Finns would conclude a separate peace with the Soviet, and the Germans would be permitted to withdraw from Norway. The three countries, Sweden, Norway and Finland would then conclude an agreement of mutual defense.

Naturally, such an agreement would be welcome to the United Nations, including Soviet Russia. Its publication as a mere personal proposal roused the wrath of Nazi bigwigs. Since it was made, there has been a sudden rise in Swedish-German tension. If the Germans ever accept such a proposal it will be plain proof that their strength is not what it has been held to be—and that they are getting out of Norway while the getting is still good.

The minute the tide begins to turn decisively in Europe things will begin to happen with dizzy speed. The waverers will all climb on the bandwagon with alacrity. If things appear to be moving Hitler's way this spring, Vichy-France and Spain may well be openly in the Axis camp this summer.

But if the Russians thwart Hitler's spring campaign, and we are poised to attack, the opposite will be the case.

Sweden will then be in a position to deal the Germans in Norway one of the most decisive blows of this or any other war. For Swedish success in Norway (with British, American and Norwegian help) would draw around Nazi Germany the now missing link in the chain which will finally bind Hitler's armies to their doom.

Way Out For India?

SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS IS GOING TO India "with the full confidence" of the British government to try to work out a solution, temporary though it may well be, of what can be called the Indian question. In his statement today Mr. Churchill recalls the fact that in August, 1940, this sub-continent was promised Dominion status, as soon as possible after the war, carrying with it "full freedom and equality" with Great Britain and the other Dominions—"under a constitution to be framed by the Indians by agreement among themselves and acceptable to the main elements in Indian national life." What new proposals are to be entrusted to the Lord Privy Seal the Prime Minister does not say. However, by way of clarification, and to clothe the general declaration of policy "with precision," he specifically announces that the war cabinet has agreed "unitedly" upon conclusions for present and future action, which, "if accepted by India as a whole, would avoid the alternative dangers." These he sets out as follows:

"Either that resistance of a powerful minority might impose an indefinite veto upon the wishes of the majority, or that majority decision might be taken which would be resisted to a point destructive of internal harmony and fatal to the setting up of a new constitution."

It is natural that the government should hesitate to set forth in detail this attempt "of a strong contribution" to aid India in the realization of full self-government, for the reason, as Mr. Churchill emphasizes, that were such a pronouncement to be made public at such a moment as this, it might conceivably do more harm than good. In other words, the government is mindful of the effect which rejection of its new proposals would have on Indian thought and action as well as on the common enemy. By the same token, their acceptance, even on a make-shift basis, would promote unified concentration on the main problem which is confronting India and her 360,000,000 people—the menace at her gates. Nothing would suit the plans of the Axis better at this stage of the war of the continents than the expansion of the present political unrest in this part of the British Empire into internal chaos or open revolt. Neither Hindu nor Moslem is blind to the consequences such a development would bring in its wake. Both realize what a tremendous weight a united India could exercise against the aggressor.

Delicate and difficult is bound to be the task of composing the views and demands of the chief opposing forces. As head of the Nationalist movement, representing approximately 240,000,000 Hindus, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru said in Allahabad the other day that "the Indian problem can only be approached on a basis of Indian freedom," and that "nothing else will make a vital difference or move our millions to effective action." As head of the Muslim League, representing nearly 80,000,000 Mohammedans, Mr. Jinnah has warned Mr. Churchill against action which did not recognize the full rights of this huge minority element. On this point Mr. Nehru is on record as declaring that "the question of minorities does not really arise in the present crisis, and that in any event, all reasonable and possible protection will be given them." This is the conflict of view which constitutes the highest kind of political explosive.

In the background, of course, is the record of Mr. Churchill's antipathy toward the India Constitution Act of 1935—which began to operate on April 1, 1937. Mr. Nehru is exploiting it to the full. Mr. Jinnah, too, is taking advantage of it. But the attitude of private member Churchill to a public question in the days of so-called peace should not be over-emphasized against the views of Churchill the Prime Minister, the man who is implacably resolved to defeat the enemies of all the people of India. But the fact that he has chosen Sir Stafford Cripps to take the olive branch to the conflicting elements in India herself, that he is to carry conclusions unitedly agreed upon by the war cabinet, should suggest even to the Indian Nationalist leader that a substantial change of heart has occurred. And if added proof of the British government's "sincere resolve" were needed, both Mr. Nehru and Mr. Jinnah have only to consult the Lord Privy Seal's writings and public utterances to learn how friendly he is to all causes that mean human betterment. Great and intricate as the Indian question is, then, his wise counsel should be sympathetically received and considered in the light of the stark realities of these times.

Canada's Crime

AT A TIME WHEN OUR EYES STRAIN outwards across the Pacific and beyond the borders of Europe, we may well overlook the menace to peace that exists within our borders. But there are, unfortunately, behind our united front against the external foe, grave signs of inner disharmony which we can ill afford to neglect. Of these not the least disturbing is the abnormal prevalence of internal crime.

How many of our readers are aware that almost exactly four years ago a Royal Commission, authorized to review the penal system of Canada, reported a prevalence of crime three times as high as that in England and Wales, and a startling increase of crime especially among youths between 16 and 21 years of age?

The detailed defects in our system may be studied in the commission's report, including more than 80 recommendations for reform all along the line. But far and away the most important recommendation was that for the prompt appointment of a standing-board or commission of three commissioners "with full authority over the management of penitentiaries, empowered to appoint staff and to act as a central parole board," and "responsible directly to the Minister of Justice and to Parliament"—a supervisory body of a kind already established in many other lands.

This advice was tendered some four years ago. The necessary legislation was passed—a year afterwards. A further three years have elapsed; but there is no commission. The reason is clear. The people of Canada have not been sufficiently interested in the prevention of crime at home, just as the people of Canada were not sufficiently interested in the prevention of international crime to refuse the delivery of scrap iron and other material aids to one nation criminally attacking another. It is not good enough to pass the blame on to the government; we choose our lawmakers.

The Victoria branch of the John Howard Society—named after the 18th century pioneer of prison reform in Europe—in various ways has been co-operating with other interested bodies in urging the appointment of the commission. However, as the urgency has increased, public concern seems to have decreased. Nevertheless, the fight to establish a better order of living within Canada should go hand in hand with that to establish peace without; the two are closely related.

Education for Citizenship

BECAUSE A FEW FORWARD-LOOKING men decided to do something about the fact that we had come to take our democracy too much for granted, the Canadian Council of Education for Citizenship came into being a year ago. By its constitution it aims at stimulating in the minds of all Canadians a greater appreciation of the meaning and implications of democracy as a way of life. It seeks, also, to assist in reaching an understanding of problems relating to post-war reconstruction and to act as a clearing house for problems and projects submitted by associated bodies, which include provincial departments of education. The Council's first annual report shows provincial councils have been formed in British Columbia, Manitoba, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Seven provinces have joined with the Dominion in giving financial support.

An active program is being developed in the schools to emphasize citizenship obligations in a democracy. The work is carried on through radio programs, lectures and pamphlets. The movement is timely. In these days when democracy is being challenged from without, there is need to reinforce it from within, to strengthen in each individual his sense of personal responsibility, to remind us continually of our obligations one to another and to the community. The school is the place to begin.

The Fourteenth

SOME OF THE BEST ADVERTISING literature sent out of Victoria for more than a decade is that which has gone far and wide from participants in the annual Empress golf tournament. These devotees of the royal and ancient pastime come from many parts of Canada and the United States and naturally tell their friends and acquaintances in less favorable climates what it is like on the fairways and greens of the Canadian northwest in what the calendar calls winter. The fourteenth of the series got under way on Monday in spring-like weather—with bright sunshine helping to console those who are apt to be dithering in the presence of the ever-haunting menace of card and pencil. The success of the tourney these days, moreover, especially in terms of visitor-entrants, bears witness to the efficacy of sustained publicity over the years. It reminds us of the practice now being employed by British exporters to this continent. They are using a good deal of newspaper and magazine space in Canada and the United States to tell their regular customers that, although the exigencies of war limit or prevent altogether their usual shipments, they intend to keep their "brands" before their clientele. Experience has taught them a sound lesson. Our brand of winter climate is one of our most profitable "exports"—and it is one commodity over which the totalitarians have not the slightest influence. And, better still, it is not a dwindling asset.

MACARTHUR'S FIGHT

From Richmond Times-Dispatch

Whatever the War Department's ultimate decision as to whether to order General MacArthur out of the Philippines, if and when he is finally overcome by enormously superior attacking forces, the fact remains that he is tying up something like 150,000 Japanese troops who could be employed to great advantage elsewhere. He is doing this with a force of Americans and Filipinos estimated at not more than a third the size of the Jap forces now on Luzon.

Such a battle as General MacArthur and his men are putting up can mean the difference between defeat and victory for the Allies in the Indies. The more widely the Japanese are compelled to disperse their by no means inexhaustible forces, the more reasonable becomes the hope of the United Nations to cut their communications at some vital point.

Editorial Diary

EARLY BIRD

AN EARLY BIRD nearly everywhere, and busy with us now cleaning the bug holes of winter, is that woodpecker of many names, which John Burroughs called the high-hole, but which most of us call the flicker.

L. Nelson Nichols, writing of the flicker in Birds of America, speaks affectionately of this gay and friendly bird:

"The flicker is the most interesting bird of all the woodpeckers. The fact that it has been called by so many different names besides that of flicker shows how very different kinds of people have made very different kinds of observations of the bird. One observer has seen the bird fly into a hole it has chiseled out with its bill near the top of a high dead tree stub and has given the bird the name of the high-hole or the high-holder. Another person has heard the bird calling his 'yarrup-yarrup' while flying from tree to fence post and to tree again in quest of food; hence the common name of yarrup. Another person hearing the loud, one-syllable call across the fields or the swamp lot has named the bird the clape. Yet another hearing the swish of his friendly 'weechem' as he wings along in wavy up-and-down flight from 10 to 100 feet above the ground has named the bird the flicker."

SOCIAL-MINDED

The flicker has the characteristic, undulant flight of the woodpecker, rising and falling as if he were riding the waves of the air.

The markings of the flicker are so variegated that there is not room here to give them in detail, but this golden-winged bird is one of the very handsomest of all his family. The female is much like the male except that she does not have the black cheek-patch or moustache.

The flicker prefers a hole high up on the bole or limb of a tree. A family of flickers has been known to build for many successive years in the same hole.

The flicker is a very social-minded bird, living on the most amicable terms with the robins, the bluebirds and the sparrows, and there is nothing truculent or belligerent in his disposition. All the woodpeckers are true arboreal, living in the trees and getting their food mainly from the trees.

Except for the starling, there are few molesters of the woodpeckers. The starling is one of the worst of the aggressor birds. He has been discovered going into the woodpecker's hole and killing and throwing out the pink and unfledged nestlings.

John Burroughs, in whose heart all birds had a home, says of the high-hole, as he prefers to call him: "He is an old favorite of my boyhood, and his note to me means very much. He announces his arrival by a long, loud call, repeated from the dry branch of some tree or a stake in the fence, a thoroughly melodious April sound. I think how Solomon finished that beautiful description of spring, 'And the voice of the turtle is heard in the land,' and see that a description of spring in this farming country, to be equally characteristic, should culminate in like manner, 'And the call of the high-hole comes up from the wood.'"

SPEAKING OF POETS

James Stephens, who wrote "The Crook of Gold," tells of meeting a woman at a reception in Dublin who could not remember the title of his book, but his association suggested "Money" to her, and that brought "Hard Cash" to mind, though she had forgotten that Charles Reade was its author. So she remarked, "Oh, Mr. Stephens, I'm delighted to meet you. I did so enjoy your book 'Hard Cash'." "Thank you, ma'am," he answered through the merest shadow of a grin; "and how did you like my 'Uncle Tom's Cabin'?"

LAST CHAPTER

Now upon each day we look
As turning pages through a book;
History written, grim and new,
Telling of a selfish few
Who have risen in their land
Fighting for world-wide command;
Grosser pictures, some remain
Ever vivid to the brain.

Allied leaders who oppose
To the foreground also rose,
And by the British stand once more
Canadians on a distant shore,
Sailing, marching, flying through
Clouds that hide their stars from view;
Joined, determined not to fail
The heroes of another tale.

Side by side and firmer still,
We have the hearts and so we will Defend our Cause, defying all
Who listen to the tyrants' call,
And with a force the foe will feel
We put our shoulders to the wheel—
The final chapter then to see:
A world of Peace, united, free.

Yes, today it's not too late
For the pages to relate
The deeds of freedom, fame and fire
So filled with fury and desire;
Behind each man we put our strength,
Our full resources, till at length
That chapter shines for all to see
We paved the way to Victory.

—AINLEY GORDON.

Japs Out-propaganda Us

By PETER STURSBURG

THE WAR of weapons has almost obscured the war of words in the Orient. We have been concentrating our attention on the little yellow men sailing over the Blue China Sea in what seems an endless succession of invasion armadas, or filtering like wraiths through the green horror of the Malayan jungles. So much so, that we have forgotten the other little yellow men talking, persuading, threatening, flattering, boasting, but talking, talking, talking over Radio Tokio, Radio Saigon, Radio Manila, now Radio Singapore.

Propaganda is playing a more important part in this new theatre of war than in the old, if only because it affects more people. But so far, our efforts in this direction have been inadequate, inept, and even harmful. Japanese propagandists have taken full advantage of the fall of Singapore. They have dressed it up to seem like the end of an epoch. Their verbatim report of the surrender conversations were not to satisfy the idle curiosity of the masses, but to emphasize the complete and utter humiliation of the white race.

Domei's account quotes the Japanese General Yamashita as saying to General Percival: "I'm not asking you whether you wish to surrender or not." (In other words, you have come here on your hands and knees begging for mercy.) The Japanese are also careful to record Percival's painful attempt to delay the surrender and his final abject submission to Yamashita's demands. This report has dynamite in every word. You see the question of whether or not the white man carried such a burden in Singapore, or whether or not British rule wasn't better for the Malays than Japanese rule, really has nothing to do with it. The point is that everyone likes to see the mighty fall, and the Japanese have given the teeming millions of Asia a Roman holiday.

BUT THE MOST insidious propaganda which the Japanese are airing is the attempt to show the Mikado's blood-thirsty bandits as the great and noble defenders of the yellow and brown races against the white.

Premier General Tojo, addressing the Tokio Diet immediately after the fall of Singapore, outlined Japan's grand strategy which included moves against Burma, India, China, the Netherlands East Indies, Australia and New Zealand.

However, Premier General Tojo was careful to point out that Japan had no quarrel with the people of Burma. In fact, it was the Japanese aim to free Burma for the Burmese.

He told the people of India that now was the time to throw off the British yoke, and he called the Chinese "brothers" and said that Tokio's only quarrel was with Chungking.

THIS IS, of course, a hollow sham, but what has been our answer to it. The Atlantic Charter, which is a fuzzy generalization guaranteeing the freedom of all peoples no matter what their color; and our alliance with one of the greatest people of Asia, the Chinese.

Yes, but even as we reach out our hands to the yellow peoples, the Australians still trumpet their racial prejudices. Instead of saying—"we are determined to keep Australia white." This is an insult to our Chinese allies and is playing straight into the hands of the Japanese propagandists. The British still look at the peoples of Asia from a colonial viewpoint. Even while signing the Atlantic Charter, they have refused self-government to India. The tragedy of Malaya and Singapore was not so much the loss of these bastions, but the fact that hardly a Malayan fought on our side.

We ourselves, even though we've come to grudgingly admire the Russians, regard the Chinese as poor relations within the United Nations.

Yet, the Japanese are easy targets for propaganda, as they are fast becoming the most hated people in Asia. But before we can attack them with words, we'll have to change ourselves.

FARM LABOR CRISIS

From Financial Post

To the average man in the city the Canadian farmer's labor problem is one that concerns itself largely with getting grain and hay under cover. The same city man would probably solve it by giving soldiers and airmen a special 30 days' harvesting leave next fall.

Unfortunately neither the situation nor the solution is as simple.

Once upon a time under certain types of agriculture, farm work, it is true, was largely concentrated in the late summer and early fall. This explained the historic harvesters' excursions to western Canada when the young men from the east were offered pleasant and profitable Cook's Tours of the prairie provinces. But those harvest excursions are now obsolete and have been for a good many years.

Today Canadian agriculture to a large degree has become a year-round occupation and one that requires very special skill. This is particularly true of that part of the industry that is now turning out bacon, cheese, processed milk and other special food products for Great Britain. Soldiers on special harvesters' leaves will not help here. What is wanted are men and women that can look after livestock, that know how to milk cows, either mechanically or by hand, know something about balancing feeds, how to sow and cultivate crops as well as harvest them, know how to operate machinery without harm to themselves or loss to their employers.

Free French Girl To Address Club

Miss Elisabeth de Miribel will speak to the Women's Canadian Club next Tuesday at the Empress Hotel, when her subject will be "The Growth of Free France." She has an interesting story to tell of her visit to the islands of St. Pierre and Michelon, recently taken over from the Vichy government by the forces of Free France.

Miss de Miribel, now director of the Free French information bureau at Ottawa, before coming to Canada was secretary to General de Gaulle in London, and came to this country as "agent de liaison" between the London committee and the Canadian friends of Free France. She was a voluntary translator-editor in the French Foreign Office in Paris (Quai d'Orsay) for the duration, but in January, 1940, was sent to London on the staff of the Mission Paul Morand for Economic Warfare. Thus it happened that she was in London in June, 1940, when General de Gaulle arrived.

On her mother's side, Miss de Miribel is a great-granddaughter of the Maréchal de MacMahon, who was president of the French Republic from 1873 to 1879; and on her father's side a granddaughter of General Charles de Miribel.

Women Organized To Beat Inflation

OTTAWA (CP) — Women's regional advisory committees to help Canadian housewives do their part in maintaining the general ceiling have been set up in 13 Canadian centres, Byrne Hope Sanders, director of the consumer representation branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said today.

Just back from addressing more than 10,000 women in 10 Canadian cities, Miss Sanders said Canadian housewives are eager and anxious to help keep prices down.

"They realize it isn't spectacular or exciting to keep a price list, but as controllers of 85 per cent of the nation's income they are going to co-operate with the government and do a good job," she said.

Price ceiling record books, with space for listing the purchase price of articles for comparative purposes, were distributed at the meetings.

"We do not want you to be policemen," says one paragraph of the booklets. "Your storekeeper is just as anxious as you are to keep the board's regulations."

"He's in business to serve you needs — co-operate with him. Your job is to observe, and if for any reason the board's policies are not maintained get in touch with your Women's Regional Advisory Committee. They will make a check-up if such a thing is necessary."

Centres which already have regional committees established include Edmonton, Regina, Vancouver, Victoria and Winnipeg.

CHILDREN OF THE WAIFS AND STRAYS SOCIETY of Bramham, Yorkshire, are pictured at the Christmas party given them by pupils of the Oaklands School, Victoria. Each year the Oaklands Parent-teachers' Association donates a sum for the annual sports day at the school. Last year the pupils did without prizes at their sports and the money usually spent for them was sent to England. "It was a great thrill to the children over here to learn that their Christmas party was given through the generosity of the school children of Oaklands," writes Elsa Durken, head of the overseas department of the Women's Voluntary Services for Civil Defence under which the society operates. "They were all so delighted with the toys we were able to buy with your money. All the children who were at your party would, if it had not been for your gift, have had a very gloomy Christmas, because all of them are away from their parents, and some of them have even lost their parents during the heavy air raids on this country."

We Can Do Without, Housewives Say

Certain canned goods are the latest war casualty. "We can easily do without them. It's surprising we haven't had to manage without a lot more before now," housewives remarked when questioned about the reduction in canned products announced by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

The reason for it all is the war in the Pacific. Tin comes from Malaya and what tin is now available for the canning industry must be kept for essential perishable foods with high nutritional value, such as tomatoes, peas, corn and beans. No longer will grocery stores be able to stock canned apples, white beans, beets and carrots—but after all, they can be prepared at home.

Those stand-bys of the emergency shelf — pork and beans, spaghetti and macaroni — are slated for new types of containers, but that does not mean they will immediately disappear from the market. These canned products will be there for some months yet.

Tin will no longer be available for canning imported raw fruits and vegetables, so prepared fruit salad or cocktail may be made up of a slightly different fruit combination.

Most products will be put up in larger containers when the new crop of fruits and vegetables is available because large tins use up a smaller amount of tin plate. These large sizes are a more economical buy for the housewife, too, and even if her family is small need not be a problem to her because the food will keep. It can safely be left in the opened tin provided it is carefully covered and put into the refrigerator or in a cool place.

SUNLIGHT'S "EXTRA-SOAPINESS"

for the extra dirty parts

Baby makes a lot of washing every week — little garments get soiled with extra dirty spots.

Food stains and grimy edges on tablecloths are difficult to get really clean.

Overalls get soiled with the hardest kind of dirt to wash out—greasy grime that sticks tightly.

CLOTHES get badly soiled in the same difficult places week after week. Pillow cases are dirtiest where sleepy heads have rested... shirts at the collar bands and cuffs. Almost everything in the wash has extra soiled parts which require an additional soaping to get them really clean.

Any soap—bar, powder or flakes—will remove the general dirtiness. But much of the grime clings tightly, and only the Sunlight method of washing will remove it. Sunlight has a wonderful "extra-soapiness" which enables you to get right at the extra dirty spots at once. Just apply lightly—scarcely more than a mere touch—and you leave a film of soap right in contact with the dirt. And because it is Sunlight Soap this film is sufficient to loosen the last tiny speck of stubborn grime.

In the rich Sunlight lather every particle of dirt is carried away, yet its action is gentle—safe for the finest materials. It is all good pure soap—and that purity means perfect safety for everything in the weekly wash. It's gentle to your hands, too.

Announcement of this was made Tuesday in Toronto at the annual dinner of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Usually of gold, the medal was cast twice in silver replica this year at the request of the winners, the saving in cost to be donated to a war fund or charity. In their absence, the medals were accepted by DR. JOHN F. WALKER, Deputy Minister of Mines for British Columbia, to deliver them to the winners on his return west in a few days.

PRINCESS SAVED

PRINCESS HALEKULANI, beautiful 21-year-old princess of the Hawaiian island of Oahu is reported to have reached Australia after the ship on which she was traveling from India was torpedoed. A London Daily Mail dispatch from Australia said the Princess is now the wife of H. K. GIBSON, identified as a Canadian transport pilot in the Netherlands East Indies Army.

Among the Princess' lost possessions, it said, was the manuscript of a new book. She also lost $4,450 worth of underwear, 250 frocks, 50 pairs of shoes.

REGRETS TO JAPANESE

REV. F. W. NORWOOD of Vancouver, at the monthly meeting of General Ministerial Association said of Japanese Canadians: "Some of these people are undoubtedly quite honest and loyal—there ought to be some possibility of allowing some of them to enlist in the fighting forces—it is terrible hardship and an undeserved hardship for many Japanese. I want to see a door of escape for them, for someone to have the authority to release those of whose conduct we are sure."

At the meeting a motion of REV. BRUCE WALLACE was passed: "We would express to Japanese citizens of our province, who during their long residence among us proved to be most law-abiding and industrious, our regret that the exigencies of war make necessary the complete disorganization of their way of life—we deprecate attempts made by anyone to exploit this unhappy situation to their own personal gain."

WHITES LOSE FACE

WILLIAM MACKINNON, for 15 years a rubber plantation manager in Sumatra, in Seattle this week, said "I am not too optimistic over the prospects of the recovery of the Dutch East Indies and other far Pacific islands which have fallen to the Japanese invaders. The white man has lost face in the Far East and face counts for much more than any continental North American can possibly understand. The fall of Singapore was really bad, but the fall of Java is disaster. The Japanese will now be able to stop the flow of materials to the British on the Egyptian front and to China."

He described the natives of the East Indies as good-natured, easy-going, with whom the Japanese will have little trouble, who will work for them as readily as they worked for the Dutch and English.

"The natives are no darn good against dive bombers," MacKinnon said. "The Japanese won't have any trouble with them."

Draft Blasts Mack's Plans

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—The pity of it all is that Connie Mack might well have had a first division club for the first time since 1933.

It is lamentable to report, then,

"Take this Tonic and see how much better you will feel" If you tire quickly, feel weak and listless, try

Fellows' Syrup. Here is a tonic that works quickly. Fellows' Syrup will help you to regain strength and vigour. It contains essential minerals that are stimulating and exhilarating. Fellows' Syrup helps to whet the appetite, it helps to induce restful sleep and quiet nerves. People all over Canada know Fellows' Syrup. When they recommend it they do so from experience. Fellows' Syrup is obtainable at all drug stores.

that the general feeling around the Philadelphia Athletics camp is that the honorable A's will make a determined fight to stay out of the American League cellar for the third consecutive year.

Mack lost nine men via Uncle Sam's draft. At least three of them, slugging Sam Chapman, Benny McCoy and Al Brancato, were figured upon heavily in the Philadelphia plans this year. A fourth, Don Richmond, might have become a sensation, and that comes straight from Mack himself.

On the good side of the ledger, the venerable, lovable Mack has a fine looking array of rookie pitchers.

GOOD BACKSTOP

The Athletics have a good catcher in Frank Hayes. He'll be even better if a knee operation does the trick expected.

The outfield, with Bob Johnson, Dee Miles and Mike Kreevich, rates better than average—or does it? Miles hit 312 last year, Johnson a disappointing .275, and Kreevich had his second bad year in a row with the Chicago White Sox, batting .232. He's still a marvelous defensive player.

Dick Siebert will be back at first, and Crash Davis will replace McCoy at second. Pete Suder probably will handle short and Louis Blair, a former New York Yankee prospect, will go up third if an injured knee holds up. He was with Newark in 1941.

There are 14 pitchers in camp. The regulars include Jack Knott, Herman Besse, Luman Harris, Les McCrabb, Phil Marchildon and Bill Beckman.

Two rookies merit marked attention. One is Fred Caligiuri, who won 16 and lost seven with Wilmington. The other is Russell Christopher, a righthander who duplicated Caligiuri's 16-7 pitching, but did it with Newark in a far faster league, the International.

Winch Confers On Coast Defence

Opposition Leader Harold Winch, in Victoria Tuesday to see government and service heads about A.R.P. and coast defence, said that if the government does not move in the matter of A.R.P. "we will have to make a public issue of the matter."

"If A.R.P. is not established on an efficient basis, I would have no hesitation in recommending compulsory service—if this danger is not met one way, then it will have to be met another way."

Mr. Winch said he was given a courteous hearing by Major-Gen. R. O. Alexander (G.O.C.-in-Chief, Pacific command) and Commodore W. J. R. Beech (senior naval officer, commanding the Pacific station, with whom he discussed Pacific coast defence, A.R.P., movement of Japanese from coastal areas and rehabilitation. "I feel that Ottawa should realize the necessity for a wider viewpoint and cutting of military and naval red-tape, and should give the local commanders greater authority and speed up supplies for all branches of the service, including home guards."

Mr. Winch said he also saw Premier Hart, who appeared greatly perturbed by the situation. "Mr. Hart agreed to telephone Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence in connection with our request to be kept fully informed and for necessary authority to be given commanders of all three services on this coast to confer with the Premier and myself on coast defence matters," said Mr. Winch.

In respect to movement of Japanese from the coastal areas, Mr. Winch sought information on how British Columbia was tying in with Ottawa and the Security Commission in regard to establishment of camps, planning a works program and supplying requisites for maintenance and constructed works.

High School Show Scores Hit

Don Shaw, Drum Majorettes Kay Davidson, Marion Millar and Barbara Wilson and Byrdie Eilers.

Proud parents (they had every right to be) and friends totalling about 1,600 packed the auditorium of the Victoria High School last night to hear students of that institution present their Talent Parade of 1942. It is doubtful who enjoyed it more, the youthful players or the audience but both went away thrilled at the end of the two-hour performance of versatile entertainment.

Presented under the direction of Miss Norma Douglas who was music teacher of the school the last year, the show included instrumental soloists, vocalists, ensemble numbers with chorus lines and precision dancing, orchestral numbers and a four-act operetta "Viennese Fantasy" by C. S. Shave.

AMBITIOUS PLAYLET

Described as "a romantic fantasy for boys and girls" the operetta was ambitious in scope and brought out fine qualities of acting, singing and dancing in the players, all of it woven into a traditional musical comedy story and featuring music by Franz Lehar, Johann Strauss, Victor Herbert, Bizet and Meyerbeer.

Outstanding success of the evening was the "Berlin Diary" a reminiscence of the compositions of Irving Berlin of the last 30 years, directed by Harold Johns. With Don Holmes as a suave narrator the "Diary" was cleverly staged and brought roars of laughter with its Bowery skit to the tune of "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Other prominent features were the Changing of the Guard by Grade 9, directed by Miss Catherine Horn and the presentation of the School Song with the drum majorettes led by Earl Morrison.

Taking part in last night's performance, which will be repeated tonight at 8.15, were the following:

"The Changing of the Guard": Joan Webb, Mary Patterson, Claire Fyfe, Pat Anderson, Gwen Robertson, Velma McLorie, Sheila McBain, Bunty Wright, Gloria Lee, Ruth Ferris, Phyllis Gray and Margaret Mitchell; sentries, Jean Anders, Doris Casway and the junior chorus, and the drummers were Isabel Erskine and Elsie Mathews.

Playing in "Berlin Diary" were Don Kerley, Bob Stevenson, Shirley Howard, Sylvia Abbot and Margaret Burns in a duet, Margaret Husband and William Lord, violinist. June Gibson, Alf Duplain, Velda Wille, Reg Fleming, Kay Burns, Ira Green, Thelma Hawkins, Gwen Peacock and Don Shaw were dancers in "Alexander's Ragtime Band." Mrs. William Graves, Mary Patterson and Ron Macdonald were the accompanists and the dances were arranged by Miss Florence Clough.

Taking part in the operetta were Hilda Kyle as Gretchen; Jack Mason, Gustave; Marguerite Fawcett, Freckles; Frank Nicholson, Albert; Desmond Richards, Hans; Cameron Cros, old man; Peter Campbell, first pikeman; Ralph Fell, second pikeman; Bud Peterson, Colonel Gratz; Peter Underwood, wounded soldier; dancers, Hilda Kyle, Marguerite Fawcett, Freda Natrass, Lorna Cross, Patty Swain, Joyce Bailey, Daphne Bourque, Alice Comber, Jack Mason, Frank Nicholson, Desmond Richards, Gordon Chambers, Jackson Walker, Alan McLean, Donald Bath and Ronald Grant.

The chorus included Rosemary Darvill, Lyn Brawn, Margaret Strathern, Joy Kirchner, Fredrica Lyon, Phyllis Larson, Greta Christian, Margery Barr, Pat

The soldiers were Ian Taylor, John Penketh, Stuart Hamilton, Bob Zellinsky, Dennis Crockett, Alec Porter and Bill Bourke.

George Boset played the part of Bruno; Torie Hichens-Smith, Angela; Tom Halbert, the gypsy messenger, and Hugh McLeod, the monk. Court gentlemen were Herbert Marrior, Jerry Dunn and Quentin Lake; Cranston Brown and Bill Cunningham were heralds; Dorothy McLennan, Mary Fetherstonhaugh, Ian Taylor, John Penketh and Stuart Hamilton were court attendants.

Gypsy dancers and taking part in the chorus were Brenda Kent, Mildred Edmonds, Ida Simon, Joyce Bishop, Winsome Smith, Nancy Wilson, Annette Casillo, Mafalda Di Iorio, Thelma Hawkins, Joan King, Kay Davidson, Pearl Phillip, Margaret Carter, Peggy Ready, Kay Burns, Joy Wallace, Marjorie Parsons (solo dancer), Irene Armstrong, Mary Whyman, Allen Coates, Gene Curry, Joyce Day, Maurice Jorre de Saint Jorre, Frances Clemo, Evelyn McGonigle, Daniel McLennan, Yvonne Simpson, Peggy Hay, Ken Harwood, Gertrude Lane, Patricia Payte, Helen Finlayson, Ira Green, Grace Ferguson, Bob Stevenson, Eleanor Berry, Mary Kingsley, Eric Pearson, Frank Hong, Bill Kecham, Gordon Chambers and Ernie Antastasio.

Forty Kinds of 'Flying Frogs' Live in Trees

Birds and bats can fly by flapping their wings, and perhaps we may say they are the true flying animals of the world. Yet there are several other kinds of animals which can fly in the sense that they sail or glide through the air.

Among the so-called "flying animals" are flying fish, flying squirrels, flying mice and co-begos.

If you go to Ceylon or Borneo or other islands off the coast of Asia, you may find these strange creatures. They also exist on the great island of Madagascar, near Africa.

Forty different kinds of flying frogs are known, but they are all like the main-points. They all live in trees, and their feet are webbed in a way which makes them serve as parachutes, or planes.

After springing from a branch, they hold their feet in such a manner as to help them glide to a landing place. The glide is not so smooth, or long, as that of a flying squirrel, but it is a good glide just the same.

The noted scientist, Alfred Russell Wallace, discovered one kind of flying frog with a very large web-spread. He measured the webs of the four feet of one of them, and found that they covered 12 square inches.

Flying frogs make little noise, and seldom move about in broad daylight. They become active after sunset, and also are to be seen moving when the sun begins to streak the sky at dawn.

Although they live in trees, they are related to water frogs. They lay their eggs in water, and the young live as tadpoles before they learn to climb trees and to sail from limb to limb.

Like chameleons, flying frogs are able to change color to match the surface upon which they rest. They cannot turn suddenly from their natural green to a bright red, but their skin takes on a grey or brownish color to match the bark of a tree.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am engaged to a girl whom I love devotedly and expected to make my wife, but I find that my affection for her is waning because of her melancholy disposition. She is always looking for something to have the blues about and she always finds it. She really has nothing to worry over, but she is always in the depths about something. The sun never shines for her. Everybody does something that hurts her feelings. I do my utmost to please her and cheer her up, but to no avail. Do you think I can be happy with such a despondent wife?

W.D.S.

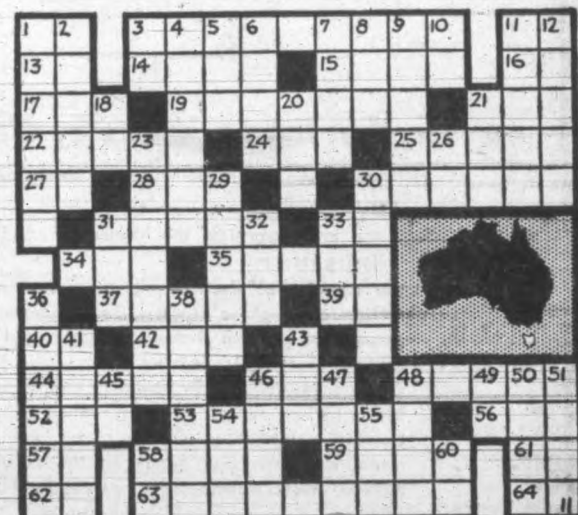

Answer: Not a chance. I can think of no wife who would be more depressing to live with than the one who is a human tear jug, for she will make the atmosphere of a home so thick with gloom that no ray of brightness will ever pierce it, and no matter how hard her husband works to cheer her up he will never be able to dry her eyes, or win a smile from her.

Such women get a morbid pleasure out of being miserable and if they haven't any troubles they go out and borrow them. If the sun is shining today, they are sure it will be raining tomorrow. If everybody looks well and healthy, they are certain they have some hidden disease like cancer or diabetes. They spoil a good dinner by telling how many people will themselves annually by overeating. They wet-blanket every plan and are just as pleasant to have around as a corpse in the living-room. They are self-pitiful who consider themselves martyrs to their families; who think the whole world is against them and that even strangers should listen to them telling their tales of woe.

Don't marry a woman who has the blues habit unless you are willing to be swamped in melancholy and drowned in tears.

DOROTHY DIX.

Color, Tailoring Stressed in Spring Coats and Suits

Left: The man-tailored suit stages a big fashion comeback. A spring classic in spun rayon or wool suiting. Right: The peasant influence swings into spring coats. This smart town coat in spun rayon and wool twill, features skirt that is softly full, and tied back.

Inset Belts, Deeper Armholes, Unpressed Pleats Are New in "Dress" Coats; Bright Color, Pastel Plaids, Pastels Noted in Casual Coats for Spring!

No two ways about it, you're going to love the new spring coats and suits! They've got spirit-lifting color, "soft" tailoring—all the features that make for smart figure-flattering lines, endless wearability. Casual coats win hands down for early spring wear and dressmaker coats will lead the Easter parade. All of which makes the coat wardrobe idea increasingly important for spring, 1942. The casual wrap coat is headed for tremendous success because of its good looks, comfort and versatility for knockabout daytime wear. It features smooth rounded shoulders, dolman sleeves, soft tie belt and inset back belt. And with Canadian women so busy and so very suit-minded, there's lots of good sense about those deeper armholes, because it is this feature that makes this coat so wonderfully comfortable atop your suit. It's a spring fashion winner!

REEFER NEWS

Reefers show softer tailoring in smoothly gored backs, nicely flared skirts, and small flap pockets, rounded revers. Box coats are slated for a big fashion comeback because of the tremendous popularity of suits. High fashion is the very loose swagger with novelty sleeves, dolman or very deep cut armholes with sloping, rounded one-piece shoulders. Sleeves are full bishop-like and the newest is the bracelet-length sleeve with cuff band and button. Other fashion news is noted in wide box pleats over the shoulder. The straight box silhouette with seamed detail to accent straight lines is most popular. Modified swing backs are also noted. The beloved tuxedo style box coat that can be buttoned up or open is extremely figure-flattering to the larger woman. Loose bell sleeves ornamented with self-braiding, two-tone embroidery or trapunto detail lend the dressmaker touch. Color clicks here too, with great interest noted in beige, a very light pale beige as well as soft grey. Twills, worsted crepes, wool crepes lend themselves beautifully to these coats. In sports and casual coats, light-weight fleeces, wool shetlands, herringbone weaves, camel fleece take the lead.

SUITS STARRING FOR SPRING, '42

It's an all-out spring for suits! Headed for their biggest season, there is a suit for every occasion, a suit for every figure—and colors and fabrics galore from which to choose! Crisp as new money and underscored for tremendous popularity is the rayon faille suit with flattering hip-length jacket, young flared skirt, bright "jewel" buttons... that kind of a suit that does double duty as a dress because you can wear it with or without a blouse—definitely the suit that is fashion-right anywhere. As we all know, suits have been the No. 1 favorite for spring for many, many years, they hit the peak of their popularity for spring '42 because of their great wearability and practicality for defence work. Canadian women will look smart when they do their part and they pick suits as their favorite "uniform." For business, daytime and defence wear, the solid color shetland suits and dusty pastel plaid suits play an important role. Softer tailoring is noted in rounded revers, easy body lines, attractive pockets. Pleated skirts for easy walking are legion, with the bias outnumbering the straight cut and the Molyneux multipleated treatment combining side pleats with box pleats is a new favorite. Classic gored skirts are also noted. Have yourself two of these suits—one in pastel—the other in plaid—collect a few blouses—and you've a good start on a smart spring wardrobe!

SATIN BOUND—MAN TAILORED FOR SPRING

Tremendously smart-looking, they feature link button, long jackets with slim box pleat skirts. Colors are softly blended, menswear worsted and all-wool fabrics are crisply tailored. This identical style suit is also noted in solid color, all-wool twill, shetland and gabardine. Superb suit or spring is the satin-bound, link button, man tailored. This is extremely smart with new slim skirt. Dated seaming at the waistline adds to its figure-flattering lines. Both the soft and tailored jacket suits feature jacket ranging from 24 to 27 inches and these are replete with dressmaker detail when the jacket is short, tailored slimmer skirts make fashion headlines for spring suits.

Suits Will Be The Standby

Suits will be the wardrobe standby of budget-conscious and style-conscious women this year. For a classic suit can be transformed by changing from a "suit hat" to an "after-five."

Dressy hats still play up the face, this year, but there are big ones too. They have draped, puffed, irregular crowns, and whether they're bonnet, turban, calot or pillbox, they have brightness in plenty. Ribbons thread through openwork straw edges. The edge of the brim counts increasingly. Ruffles, ruching, and softer-than-ever flanges are used.

Faille's a fashion first for spring. This suit in a rayon fabric features a little basque jacket, contrasting full peasant skirt.

Spring Woolens Feature Classic Weaves, Colors!

Fabric creators in America, especially in the field of woolens, have concentrated their attention on new and more beautiful classic weaves, rather than to the introduction of startling novelties for the coming season. Conditions have undoubtedly had something to do with this. It was no time for ranging far afield in experimentation. Instead, the time and the money and the skill has gone into making the most beautiful versions of materials that Canadian women know and love.

Twills and serges... flannels and reps... gabardines and soft cashmere type woolens... lusciously lovely wool duvetynes. Stunning new versions of jersey, now used for suits and costumes as well as for dresses. All these are old favorites. But this year, through their emphasis on texture and color, they manage to look brand new.

There's only one rule for dressing this spring, clothes must be simple. They must be feminine.

Fashion Creations Highlight Spring Mode for 1942

'Costume Look' Starred in Dresses; Side Draped Skirts, Dolman Sleeves Noted

It's the dressmaker touch, and the "costume look" that distinguish this spring's dresses. Many belong definitely in the "dress that looks like a suit" class, some combine print with plain, others are all of one fabric. But the new effect is soft and immensely flattering, with much intricate detail and the dressmaker influence showing in buttons, appliqued braid trimming, embroideries, shirtings and pipings. Gleaming white touches, even up dark dresses, especially navy, with white collar and cuff facings, white belts, perhaps a crisp white pique kerchief peeping from a pocket. White gloves and white hats are worn with many spring fashions, making them ever so fresh looking and feminine.

As for the lines and contours of the New York creations that mark them unmistakably as spring 1942 dresses, there are drawstring necklines, dolman sleeves, surplice closings, side-draped skirts and tunics in various versions, all giving evidence that the art of the dressmaker is flourishing this season. Two-piece themes are persistent, with the jacket dress, that looks much like a jaunty suit, and the sleeveless jacket, both enjoying a tremendous vogue.

TIERED SKIRTS NARROWER

Skirts with movement to the side, others with the wearable pegtop drape on a rippled apron flounce, are in the shops and are being worn by smart women. Straight skirts are a trifle longer, but the gentle flaring, many-gored skirts are still as crisply short as ever, to the frank delight of most women. Front gathers below the waistline give graceful skirt fullness and a look of slenderness to many of the new dresses. These attached to a brief skirt yoke which may develop only in the front, or may extend all the way around. There are many versions of this slimming front fullness; for instance, the straight silhouette is sometimes modified by the use of a series of rippled jabots, or a harem drape, extending about two-thirds of the way down the front of the skirt.

NECKLINE NEWS

High surplice necklines, or the drawstring or rounded type; yokes, shirred pockets, clever folds, fine pipings, embroideries, are features of the smartest new dresses, both the one-piece variety and those two-piece creations—jacket dress or redingote—that have the fashionable "costume look" which is so acceptable for spring.

The jackets themselves are shorter, softer in line. Perhaps most important and generally useful of jacket dresses is the one in faille, with black or navy the leading colors. In these the jacket to be smart should reach the hipbone and feature soft dressmaker details, very smooth shoulder and back lines, new and interesting buttons. Incidentally, belts and buttons are playing an important role in costume designing this season. Buttons themselves are interesting and often the main feature of the dress.

Color contrast is strikingly achieved this spring in sophisticated print and plain dresses. The silhouette most prevalent in this combination is the long torso solid color top and vivid print dirndl skirt. Side draped or up-swept necklines predominate with dirndl skirts falling in straight full folds. These dresses are underscored for those who shy from all print dresses, yet like a dash of color. Rayon jersey, because of its easy drapability, lends itself beautifully to these dresses. As for the prints used in these dresses, your choice is endless, all very colorful on black or navy grounds. Variations of print-and-plain combinations are noted in spaced floral prints, for instance, a large splashy flower print on bodice, repeated in skirt.

Perk up your spirits and those of your family and friends by bringing spring into your wardrobe—a bold print, perhaps; a crepe in sunny yellow, or in the singing new shade of orange, a two-piece dress in faille, or a dress with side-draped or pegtopped skirt. Fresh as paint these creations, highlights of the spring collections.

Morale-building printed frocks are wonderful for all spring!

Vivid Color Notes in Spring Fashion Picture

Primitive, bright and vibrant colors are the important note for spring 1942. Fashion experts believe, and psychology backs them up, that people need bright colors to give them a "lift" in times like these. Clear basic colors satisfy the need for something gay. Energetic colors such as bright red will lead the color parade. Sharp contrasts, such as red on white, will also be in demand. A shrill new pink called "Pink Elephant Pink" will add its mad dash of color in accessories and jewelry.

As a restful contrast to this outpouring of raw color, soft greens will also appear. Green is a dominant color in many spring prints, both in cottons and rayons. Soft creamy beiges, tawny beiges, and light browns are predicted for spring wools. A pinkish "nude" beige is slated to take the place of the classic tan for polo and other favorite sport coats.

Vivid multicolored prints are highlighted with strong royal blues, bright reds, greens and golds. Softer types are welcomed too, with natural green again leading. Defence blues, chocolate browns, soft greys and beige, and combinations of grey with browns will go well with beige and brown wool coat shades.

Navy blue is a perennial favorite that will have a strong comeback this spring. Blue with vivid red trim is an important combination. Red and blue prints on a white background reflect the patriotic mood. The classic navy blue and white is especially welcomed this season for its simplicity and trimness. Cool greys and whites, or greys and yellows are a spring combination that will be welcomed as a smart contrast to the raw tones.

Fur Jackets, Scarfs Sound Fashion Investment

Fur jackets and scarfs loom brighter than ever on the fashion horizon for spring 1942. More than ever women will want something to soften the tailoring of their trim suits, and add that lavish touch to their gay printed frocks. As a matter of fact, a fur jacket or scarf is one of the soundest fashion investments you could make. They make you and everything you wear look smarter.

The local stores are chock full of flattering furs in the "economy" brackets. You can have your choice of sable-blended kolinsky scarfs, in two, three, four or even five-skin arrangements. Beautifully blended in deep sable tones, these scarfs add that luxurious, well-dressed touch to your suits and dresses. Silver fox, as always, will lead the "hit" parade of furs in the Easter parade. And don't let the cost frighten you! A twin silver foxtail scarf frosted with silver will make you feel and look like a duchess, without costing a king's ransom!

A sable-dyed squirrel jacket is another budget favorite, luxurious and lovely for practically any occasion. The more practical minded will love the natural tipped skunk jackets—as smart as they are sturdy!

We certainly can't overlook those provocative little capes that are so wonderfully flattering for every occasion. Silver fox, or natural grey kidskin are among the most popular furs used this way.

Dinner Hats the Vogue

It's contagious—the dramatic new vogue for topping dinner dresses with eye-catching hats. Women guests at one of the smart dinner clubs in New York were out-dressing the entertainers. In self-defence the actresses and dancers added hats to their costumes, and the result proved successful beyond expectations. Those hats the dancers in the chorus wear "make" the show!

Stripes, Dots, Checks

Candy stripes, barber pole stripes, zebra stripes; polka dots and shepherd checks are all harbingers of spring noted in recent collections.

The Colorful Season Brings Smart New Accessories

Jewelry for Spring Lovely As Ever Says Charlotte

"Costume jewelry for spring 1942 will look very much like the baubles we've worn and loved for some time—which, this season, is news. And good news!" says Charlotte, well-known stylist and designer.

"Heretofore the most promising thing one could say about a fashion was that it was new and different. But today, surrounded as we are by changes in our lives and customs, the greatest asset anything can have is the look of normalcy. Instead of seeking innovations and prizes, it is a joy to behold those things that look familiar and seem like old friends."

"Therefore it is pleasant and comforting to view the current crop of jewelry and to realize that though many strange and newly-developed materials have been used in its making, they have been handled so cleverly that the results are neither exotic nor bizarre, but look like improved and more glamorous versions of the ornaments we have enjoyed and valued for a long time," the noted designer said.

IRIDESCENT COLORS

Naturally there are many new styles and shapes and colors in the jewelry that will brighten the lives and costumes of smart women during the coming season. One outstanding development is the importance of iridescent effects.

"But the jewelry that will perhaps be most admired by the women who wear it—and the men who admire them—is the gay bouquet of flowers, a whole garden of gorgeous plastic blossoms, in groups that will emphasize the type and personality of their wearers," Charlotte declared.

Brilliant Accessory Finds Ignite New Season Ingenuity

Spark your costume with color for spring! Express yourself with gorgeous, greens, random reds, percussion purples and tawny tans. Match them up in bags, shoes, hats, gloves of similar sophistry. Wear accessories as a badge of courage, with spirit and zest to match your own determination—to look, feel and do your best this brave new spring.

HANDSOME BACKGROUNDS

Hands that merge with a background of color of spring prints will achieve a costumed distinction in gloves of creamy tones that match. Many of the loveliest new prints for spring register their brilliance on neutral ground. These neutrals have been translated into fabric gloves, suedes and very elegant, with a wealth of back-stitching and appliques for added interest.

Antique leather colors also appear in spring glove collections, to blend with antique leather shoe fashions—and the same richness and depth of color has been captured in glove fabric.

R.A.F. blue, flag blue and flag red are patriotic recruits to the spring glove parade—all wearable with navy, and "handy" to wear with summer white!

SUBTLE SNAKESKINS

Snakeskin handbags have wriggled into first place for spring. They have gone gay in color, and subtle in detail—with pleats and tucks, gathers, shirings and similar dressmaker tricks for artistry.

Silhouettes are frankly enormous, with room for flashlights, fountain pens and all the trappings of a busy life.

VIVACIOUS VEGETABLES

Vegetables have discovered the glamorous side of life, in dyed and preserved versions worked up into costume jewelry with the vitamin verve taken externally.

Pumpkin seeds and wooden beads connected on wool yarn turn out to be something pretty tasty in the way of a necklace. Tropical seeds, a variety of beans, pods and even macaroni offer an endless variety of surprises in conversion jewelry for spring. It's worth talking about and with praise for the really "different" and delightful effects this novel jewelry offers so inexpensively.

WHITE ACCENTS

The rush to the colors includes white—red, white and blue; and white is up to its refreshing spring best again this year. White collars, gloves, belts, hats and buttons are impacting dark town costumes with considerable wallop. Navy and white are as synonymous with spring as the first robin—and just as chipper! Plenty of stark-white accessories are wardrobe necessities for that spick-and-span look and its rewarding sense of well-groomed applause.

Hankies display a hankering for 19th century designs and colorings, and a nostalgic, sentimental urge for bowknots and true.

Patent always pleases—for that shiny spring-y note in your Easter costume. This popular handbag is made of patent leather in an underarm style with perforated patent ruffling on the edges. New and smart for daytime!

Tailored Blouses For Suits; Frilled Neckwear Important

For those who will carry on in their war work minus a uniform and for those on their days off, as a respite from the uniform, the spring picture is, indeed, a charming one. Women are showing a tendency toward being thoroughly feminine when off duty. Dressy bengaline and faille suits, always with a bit of frothy frou in the way of a jabot or a lingerie blouse, will be favorites. Collars and cuffs, tailored or dressy, for the uniform or the sport or dressy suit, are taking on an added importance, for one may buy a dickey with which to vary but one suit. For after work engagements, for cocktails and evenings of fun and frolic, one may carry a lacy jabot dickey in one's handbag, slip it in the desk during the day, don it after five and be prettily fortified for a dressy night in town. Even the tailored shirt has taken on dressier characteristics. The blouse with the roll collar and plunge neckline is being accepted with growing impetus. Navy and black sheers with lingerie touches at the hemline, the neck and sleeves, will be on the popular list for spring.

COTTON BLOUSES MORE POPULAR

During the last war, cotton tripled itself in sales value. And so it has now. Lacy cotton batistes for spring and summer are the natural companions for the dirndl or peasant styles of dress, whether worn for day or evening.

Hats Enhance Charm

Hats enhance a woman's charm. A hat is an extension of nature—no matter how good-looking or plain a woman's face, there's a hat to make it appear even more attractive. The silhouette of a hat will do much to bring out the good features in a woman's face, but the color of the hat also is important. The flattering color which a hat provides can help make a sallow complexion look clear olive, or can aid in transforming a colorless face to a charming blush pink color.

Ina Claire's Hats

Ina Claire, the distinguished actress, has one of the largest hat wardrobes of any woman in the country. She has hats of every color and material and gives variety to her wardrobe through her changes of hats.

Bright Gloves Popular in Spring Fashion Picture

The new spring fabric gloves emphasize the current demand for utility, quality and feminine grace and color. Glove fashions have been designed to serve the most sensitive, intelligent and practical woman in the world—the Canadian woman. The grim reality of war has found Canadian women eager to shoulder more than their share in maintaining the morale of an embattled nation, and as part of their duty to morale, they will dress as brightly and gaily as they can.

Uniformed smartness and tailored sleekness find their echo in the new spring gloves. In addition to the ever popular white and navy, there's lots of fashion excitement in colored gloves. A wide variety of colors is offered from subdued soft pinks, warm beiges, rich saddle tans.

That important "white touch" in a detailed collar and cuff set of embroidered organdie and edged in a double row of lace frills. Detachable for quick laundering and a fresh change of neckwear. Feminine? Definitely!

New Styles in Spring Hats Win Wide Approval

Spring

As I go roaming through the woods today,
My heart is filled with a sweet ecstasy;
The grass is new and rich and green, the road
Winds in and out between the woodlands gay,
And by its side the curly lilies play.
The peacocks wave in gaily-colored gowns,
While peeping shyly from a secret mound,
The violets coyly shed their perfume 'round;
And from an unexpected little nook
Ladyslippers trip merrily, and look
Like dainty fairies dancing to a lay,
To bring me joy and gladness on this day.

E.E.O.

Wearable Hats, Softly Tailored Lines, Featured Profile, Pompadour, Turbans, Sailors Favored

Most satisfying item in the spring fashion world, are the hats. Intended to please not only the wearers—the women—but also beaux and husbands and even the men in the office—new hats give glamour a practical turn by combining flattery with comfort. Greater emphasis than ever before is placed on wearable hats—hats a woman can and will wear interchangeably for all sorts of daytime and informal evening occasions.

In this fast drama of existence a woman doesn't have time to go home and change clothes for the various appointments and engagements which fill her days. Many will wear suits. Others will wear simple dresses and matching coats. Emphasis will go on the hat—and a variety of hats which may be worn with the same costume, will be the bulwark of many a woman's wardrobe, and the pressure of events makes time a scarcer and scarcer commodity.

HATS LEAD THE WAY
Millinery is leading the way in reflecting the indomitable spirit of the women of Canada. Hats are bright for all their seriousness. Hats are gay for all their sturdiness. Hats are pretty and feminine for all their stayability. Hats go on and stay on without bother and fuss—and look just as smart at the end of the day as at the beginning. That's the kind of hats the women of Canada are buying this spring.

Hats are just large enough to give the face and hair a flattering frame. Included in these important wearable hats are many types. Old favorites with new and attractive twists appear in new collections. They're all here—the irreplaceable casual, but with a line; the profile or pompadour beret; the turban; the sailor; the Watteau shape (tilted in front and high in back); the bonnet; the calot with fluted edges—and every one has that touch of the unexpected that makes fashion.

Simple brimmed shapes of spectator variety, with detail of trimming or tucking or draping for distinction, are designed for wear with casual wools. Softly tailored suits are fashion's leaders—every woman will have at least one of these suits this spring and she will vary the looks of this costume by a change of hats.

SAILORS AND SUITS
Since sailors and suits have always had that made-for-each-other look, the scene will be dotted with sailors this spring—that's a certainty. These sailors run the gamut of fabrics—some appear in strawcloth, light as a postage stamp, others in felt, sometimes with interesting double-edged brims, others are in dramatic fabrics—taffetas and prints—which gracefully lend themselves to twisted and draped brims for subtle femininity's sake. In straw the sailors are apt to develop a homburg crown or an up-curved, padre brim.

The cloche gets more complementary day by day. This season it may be worn high on the head to reveal some of the hair. Occasionally it has a fedora crown. Lovely in felt or fabrics, it is equally wearable in one of the loosely-meshed, natural-colored straws.

Gymnast of the season is the beret. Slightly smaller than formerly, it perches on one side of the head—or behind the pompadour. And those flattery-wise females are still demanding the profile beret.

The calot has grown up and acquired softly fluted edges into which bangs or pompadour may nestle. They are also popular with bonnet brims.

COLOR IS IMPORTANT

There has been a demotion in the importance of black hats. While every well-balanced wardrobe should have a black hat to fill in the gaps, color is a fashion must—to shock your black dress to life—to tie up with your blouse, handbag, or gloves. The blues, through light turquoise to medium and navy, are spring loves again. On the frankly vivacious side there is the whole family of greens with emerald promising to go places fast. Pinks and reds range from that good dusty shade, on to American Beauty and the clear, brave flag tone of red. The yellows are coming up with a decided, bright gold—high style note to watch for. The natural shades of brown also demand attention.

New Spring Hats Express Personalities and Moods

Watch a woman's hats—and you have a key to her personality.

But a woman's personality is not something that remains the same from day to day. Her moods change from hour to hour, from occasion to occasion. That's why she needs plenty of hats—to match her changes of moods.

Even the serious defence worker doesn't wear her defence uniform all the time by any means. Every woman needs a change. For going to and from the office, for social times between hours and after hours—these occasions bring out different moods—a mood for gaiety one hour, an outdoor fun-loving mood another time—perhaps romance the next. She dons her hats to suit the occasions and the moods.

Or suppose she is in the mood to make a magnetic impression upon someone. She puts on a hat that's brim full of magnetism and charm—a stunning hat, and, above all, a hat that expresses her personality at its most dynamic pitch.

A chapeau does more than accent a frame-of-mind. It actually makes a woman's mood more contagious. A face-framing bonnet caged in come-hither veiling works like mental telepathy when she's in a table-for-two mood. Or if that woman-of-the-world feeling comes on, let her appear in a deftly sophisticated hat—and watch the world bend from its waist.

Hats for the Duchess

The Duchess of Windsor will be setting fashions in Nassau this winter with her new wardrobe, which she purchased on her recent trip to New York. The duchess' hats will be of particular interest, since it is well known that she believes in the importance of a hat to a woman's costume.

Soft Details and Lots of Color for the Youngsters

Small Waist Calls

For Accentuation
If your waistline is very small—
Wear one of the new slim wrap-around dresses draped to the side, or a girdled dress with bright color to dramatize this good point.
Don't try to conceal your waistline by wrapping it in a sash or wearing a princess dress without waistline definition.

Taffeta for Spring

You'll rustle when you walk this spring, for you'll wear dresses of thin taffeta, flaring around your hips. Not only dresses, but whole suits will be made from crisp taffeta.

Now That We Bicycle

Culottes are due for a comeback. They are being featured in lovely grey flannel. Why? Because the bicycle is staging a comeback.

Nude Beige Important New Color in Coats; Torso Bodices, Dirndl Skirts Lead Dresses

Young America swings into spring to the tune of color, softly styled coats, lots and lots of suits! Nude beige, a very light pale beige, makes fashion headlines in coats and every smart teenager and even the younger girl will want a "nude beige coat." Featured in lightweight fleece in casual wrap styles, it has the new soft shoulders, deeper cut armholes, wide rounded revers and soft tie-front belt. It is the coat active youngsters can slip in and out of quickly, wear comfortably over all their suits. There are many all their suits.

Although newest in nude beige, it's a knockout coat in cream ground with large blue overplaid. For Easter Sunday "best," there are delightfully pretty princess coats with fresh white Peter Pan collars for big and little sister.

Vivid faille ascots lend a bright color accent. Color is the news in reefer! A bright red shetland reefer is one all girls will love, with high notched collar, crisply flared skirt. For the younger girl it is the double-breasted reefer coat that wins fashion honors. Dressed up with velvet piped shield pocket flaps and high pocket slits, it's smart for school and dress wear.

SMART COATS POPULAR

Tailored box coats for tots as well as older girls is now in white ground with pastel-hound's tooth check pattern. Man tailored and double-breasted it is the perfect coat to top suits. But it's the feet coat to top suits.

Wonderfully wearable, youngsters will toss it over their suits and dresses all through spring. And for summer it makes an excellent jacket or coat, too!

Every little girl and her fashion-conscious teen-age sister wants one suit at least this spring. They are featured in ice cream pastels, light-ground pastel plaids, flannels, all-wool shetlands and herringbone weave woollens. Prime favorite is the three-button "boys" suit with casual longer-length jacket, box pleated skirt. Button-up jacket suits with club collar and all around pleated skirts are particularly well liked in plaid. Jerkins, beloved by young America, are also back in the spring fashion picture and can be bought to match or contrast with these suits. Speaking of suits, cotton suits will be tremendously popular and worn earlier than ever this spring.

For "dress," teen-age youngsters will wear long-jacket suits with inset tie front belt, softly detailed deeper armholes. The tie front jacket achieves a soft bodice fullness that is very flattering and comfortable. Their skirts are gored, box pleated, or show multiple pleats. This suit, too, is an identical copy of mother's suit—another indication that family fashions are becoming more important. Little boys will wear bright checked suits this spring—and there's nothing "sissy" about them either! Handsomely tailored, they have collarless or rever jackets, regulation shorts. New for your son and heir is the three-piece suit for Easter. Consisting of the ever-popular Eton jacket suit, its matching topcoat can be worn with everything.

COLOR-BRIGHT PRINTS BLOOM IN SPRING DRESSES

Lively young styles, color-bright prints—trends so very important in misses dresses, are also noted for girls this spring. The basque bodice and long torso top, including the middie type, are complemented by the full dirndl or tiered skirt. Nautical touches are noted and there is also a suggestion of military influence in capped or epaulet

Suits Under Furs Should Be Sleek

If choosing a spring suit to wear under furs—

Check your height first! If you are less than five feet six inches, you are not tall enough for checked tweeds and rough wools. You'll need smooth wools or gabardines with short, fitted jackets and you will look best in a dark color to match your fur rather than a vivid or pastel contrast.

Mix Your Colors Wildly

Be daring about the way you mix your colors. Combine turquoise with mauve, chartreuse with dark green, fuchsia with lime green.

Mothers-To-Be Like Light Collars

Give thought to the necklines and sleeves of your dresses. Make them look important with attractive contrast in color. Wear something light to your face—pale blue, soft pink or white, and avoid extremely plain, high necklines and droopy shoulders.

Fashion Picks 'Vitamin' Prints

So far as youngsters are concerned, it's going to be a blithe spring. Certainly there's no shortage of gay printed cottons or cute styles for the young in 1942.

PINAFORES, GUMPIES, DIRNDLS STARRED

The young set will find flattery in princess styles, long torso lines, jumpers, gumpies, peplums for teens, dirndls and pinafores for all ages. They'll be looking to their hemlines, too, with border interest played up in printed or appliqued designs around hems and pockets, and splashed on skirts proper.

Color will enliven the Canadian scene for children more than ever. Maize, brown and lavender will stand out in higher-priced fashions for children, while pink and blue will be seen more in volume types. White continues a popular background for prints.

Gingham Girl fashions combining small and large checks, and all sorts of mix-and-match groups (usually with shorts, skirts, slacks or overalls, and skirts) done in plain and printed percale, chambray, water-repellent cotton covert, gabardine, and corduroy.

Teen-Age Girls' Hats

Hats for the teen-age have been attracting considerable attention—more so than for many years. Teen-age girls are showing a preference for two types of hats—the "all-round" hat and the "dress-up" hat.

By PETE SALLAWAY

WITH FIGHTERS from the United States slated to participate for the first time, plans are going ahead for one of the greatest simon pure boxing cards in the history of the Pacific Northwest, at Vancouver, March 28-29, when the Canadian Northwestern Pacific championships are held. Sponsored by the British Columbia Amateur Boxing Association, the event is certain to attract the cream of mitt slingers from British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and the prairie provinces.

Acting in the role of ambassador for the event, Jess Addinall of Vancouver paid us a flying visit Monday to leave a few entry blanks and give us a bright picture of the forthcoming show. Addinall was in Victoria to interview fighters of the Royal Canadian Navy and Army units relative to their taking part in the tournament.

Two of the navy lads, Bob Hickie and Gordon Grayston, captured Pacific Northwest Golden Gloves championships recently at Seattle and naturally the promoters would like nothing better than to have them appear at Vancouver. As a matter of fact it is hoped to have at least five winners and runners-up in the Seattle and Vancouver Golden Gloves tournaments fight in the forthcoming meet. With these lads entered, the event is certain to boast plenty of class and will be attractive to the cash customers.

Promoters of the tournament have finally wised up and will depart from the usual custom of awarding cups and medals to the winners. The boys who lift the championships and also the runners-up will receive handsome wrist watches. That will give the lads something to fight for. In addition, special awards will be made to the most popular, most scientific fighters of all. The promoters will also devote 50 per cent of the profits to the purchase of bundles for the boys overseas.

Boston Swamps Chicago

Hockey players like Herbie Cain have been responsible for much of the expansion and continuity of the National Hockey League. They come back year after year, sometimes changing employers, but always well up in the scoring summaries, well down in the penalty lists.

So everyone was pleased Tuesday night when Herbie Cain got his 100th goal. But the goal didn't mean much otherwise to the Bruins, who swamped Chicago Black Hawks 9 to 1 in Boston to cinch third place.

The Black Hawks, performing without big Earl Seibert, their star defenceman, scored after 74 seconds of play when rookie Bill Mosienko batted in a long pass from Bob Carse. Gordie Bruce put the Bruins into a tie about five minutes later.

While the Bruins were sharp shooting at Lo Presti during the last two periods, both Flash Hollett and Roy Conacher scored twice against him. The other Boston tallies came off the sticks of Des Smith, Jack Shewchuk, Jack McGill and Herb Cain.

HILLER INJURED

The easy triumph proved to be a bit costly for the 1941-42 Stanley Cup champions, for the Dutch Hiller, their handy winger, was forced to retire with a lacerated ear that required eight stitches.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Chicago, Mosienko (R. Carse, Hammill), 1:14; 2, Boston, Bruce (Hollett), 6:10. Penalties: Mariucci, R. Carse, Smith, Shewchuk.

Second period—3, Boston, Smith (Cain), 4:40; 4, Boston, Hollett (Bruce, Crawford), 5:58; 5, Boston, Conacher (H. Jackson, McGill), 12:38. Penalty: Smith.

Third period—6, Boston, Shewchuk (H. Jackson, A. Jackson),

An added incentive to the fighters will be a prospective trip to the Canadian boxing championships at Edmonton. Addinall informed us he has promised to take a team to the nationals, and his selection of the members will be made mainly on their showing in the Vancouver tournament. "I have told the Dominion moguls we will send a first-class team to Edmonton and, with the material available in the Northwest, I know there should be no trouble naming a squad of topnotchers," he said. The Vancouver tournament will include all classes from 112 pounds to heavyweights with two special 90 and 100-pound divisions for British Columbia boys. So any Victoria fighter wishing to take part can drop in to the sports department and pick up an entry form.

It will be Navy vs. Army in the final battle for the championship of the Services Hockey League. Army left no doubt as to their right to contest the deciding series Monday night by handing the Air Force lads a one-sided defeat. The Navy-Army playoff is expected to produce some real tough hockey. The clubs are bitter rivals and the Army would like nothing better than to bring an end to that undefeated record of the bluejackets. On the other hand the Navy are just as determined to run out the string and complete their league schedule without a loss. The games should be interesting and don't be surprised if the series goes the limit—three games.

We were not surprised Tuesday when the Dominos announced their decision to demand neutral referees for their British Columbia basketball final against Vancouver Toodles. We have always advocated outside officials for this playoff, regardless of the added expense. Although the Victoria team made no specific mention of what referees they desired we know they had Washington arbitrators in mind when they made the demand.

Four Visiting Golfers

Empress Golf

Victorians Do Well

Victorians fared well as first rounds of match play in the men's and women's championships of the 14th annual Empress Hotel golf tournament were played Tuesday at the Colwood Club.

Conclusion of the first day's firing saw Al Falk, Ernie Brachet and Dave Palmer still in the running for the men's Sir Edward Beatty trophy. Falk, who finished well up in the qualifying first round, turned back the title hopes of A. C. Broad, Vancouver, 2 and 1; Brachet, medalist in a previous tourney, eliminated Jimmy Cunningham, another Victorian, 3 and 2, while Palmer defeated Dunc Hamilton, Vancouver, 3 and 2.

Two strong contenders from Seattle, Lee Stell and Ralph Whaley, advanced into the second round with victories over Mel Crawford, Calgary, and Art Hurst, Victoria, respectively. Stell is a former champion. J. F. Wright, Anacortes, and G. Parsons, Seattle, were carried to the 19th hole. The former defeated S. Ellis, Toronto, while Parsons accounted for H. U. Johnston, Camrose, Alta.

EXTRA HOLE BATTLE

Feature match of the women's championship saw Miss Eileen Pendray, Victoria, defending titleholder, win after going 20 holes against Mrs. Alan DesBrisay, Vancouver. Mrs. Mel Crawford, Calgary, Monday's medalist, won her opening match from Mrs. N. Kyle 4 and 3. Two well-known Victorians contenders, Mrs. Jack Todd and Mrs. Ken Lawson, won their matches from Miss Katie Duff Stuart and Mrs. C. E. Wilson, respectively.

Percy Williams Now Ferry Pilot

EDMONTON (CP)—Percy Williams of Vancouver, who won fame and glory for Canada and the British Empire as one of the greatest Olympic Games sprinters of all time, last week joined the staff of ferry pilots employed by Canadian Airways Training Ltd. and now is stationed at the No. 2 Air Observers School here.

The wing-footed Williams won the 100-metre sprint at the 1928 Olympic Games at Amsterdam and two days later flashed along the cinder paths to score an unprecedented Olympic double for Canada by winning the 200-metre sprint.

"I was too old to enlist as a fighting pilot so I thought the next best thing I could do to help out was to be a ferry pilot. I have a commercial pilot's license," the 33-year-old Vancouverite said in an interview.

The years have dealt lightly with Williams. He still has the step and set-up of an athlete. "I weigh 134 pounds now and I weighed 132 when I won the sprint titles," he said.

ANDY LYTLE, SPORTS EDITOR

TORONTO (CP)—Andy Lytle, sports columnist of the Toronto Star for the last eight years, took over the duties of sports editor of the newspaper Tuesday. Lytle joined the Star staff in 1934, coming from the Vancouver Sun where he was sports columnist and editor during 10 years service.

Cage Series Off—Nicol

Referee Trouble

"The series is off." That was the latest report from Manager Dave Nicol of the Victoria Dominos on the British Columbia senior men's basketball final scheduled to open here Friday night with his club opposing Vancouver Toodles.

Fireworks started Tuesday when the Dominos demanded one "neutral" referee for the best-of-seven series.

This morning Nicol was in telephone conversation with officials of the British Columbia Basketball Association, and when they refused to accede to his demands for one outside official, the doughty Victoria manager told them the series would not be played.

Army Suits Louis

Says He's Stronger

FORT DIX, N.J. (AP)—As though income tax time and the draft and such matters aren't enough just now, the heavyweights in general and ample Abie Simon in particular were informed today that Joe Louis is stronger now than he's ever been.

"It's not only the army work and stuff," the champion said as he went through his chores in preparation for his March 27 Madison Square Garden bout with Simon. "But when you're in the army, you don't get out as much. There's not so much time for foolin' around. So you just build up naturally."

Joe isn't kidding about that. He does six miles roadwork at 6. He then takes an hour's nap, then sits down for breakfast. Next he

Syl Apps Wins Hockey Trophy

MONTREAL (CP)—A new honor was bestowed on Sylvanus Apps Tuesday night when the great centre ice star of Toronto Maple Leafs was named as the winner of the Byng trophy, awarded annually to the player in the National Hockey League adjudged to combine the best type of sportsmanship with a high standard of playing ability.

Announcement that Apps had won the coveted individual trophy was made by Frank Calder, president of the N.H.L. Eleven hockey writers in the six N.H.L. cities took part in balloting conducted by the league, with Apps winning in a walk. Second place went to Gordie Drillon, also of the Leafs, while Bill Thoms of Chicago Black Hawks was third.

Each hockey writer named 10 choices, with 10 points being allotted for a first place vote, nine for a second, and so on down the line. On that basis Apps compiled 100 points from eight firsts, two seconds and one ninth. Drillon, who received one first vote, had 66 points, while Thoms, who got two votes for first, had 64.

SECOND AWARD

The Byng trophy is the second individual N.H.L. award to be won by Apps in his six years in the league. As a freshman, Apps won the Calder trophy in 1936-37 as the outstanding rookie of the year.

Four Unknowns Gain Golf Final

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two long-shot combinations—neither rated better than 50 to 1—reached the final of the Miami Biltmore's international four-ball golf tournament Tuesday with a pair of dramatic, almost unbelievable victories.

Jack Groat, tall, black-haired Pittston, Pa., professional, supplied the big punch for 1,500 spectators when he sank a 60-foot chip shot on the 36th hole to give his team a 1-up decision over Jimmy Hines, New York, and Willie Goggin, San Francisco.

Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio, managed a hot-putting streak earlier in the afternoon and he and his partner, Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., blasted out the 1941 winners—Ben Hogan and Gene Sarazen, 5 and 4.

Williams Expects Abuse From Fans

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, arrived here Tuesday, went directly to the Sox training camp and started swinging a bat to unloosen the kinks incurred by a four-day motor trip from Minneapolis.

Williams, whose decision to rejoin the Red Sox followed his reclassification by the presidential appeal board in Washington from 1-A to 3-A in the selective service laws, was warmly greeted by manager Joe Cronin.

"Anyone who knows the true facts in my case will not condemn me," the outfielder told reporters in regard to his selective status. "I realize I'm going to take a great deal of abuse from the crowds this year. I don't know why I should, though."

Clippers Hand Vernon Club 5-2 Defeat

NANAIMO (CP)—Nanaimo Clippers are heavy favorites to retain their British Columbia intermediate hockey crown following their 5 to 2 victory over Vernon Hydrophones here Tuesday night.

A win over Hydrophones in a second game here Thursday night would duplicate Clippers' feat of last season when they captured the provincial title in their first year of organized play with two straight victories over Vernon Hydrophones.

Hydrophones made good on their pre-game warning that they would be "playing for keeps" when they went against Clippers, but they were outclassed by the heavier Nanaimo squad.

The teams appeared fairly evenly matched during the opening period, with Mike Zelma opening the scoring at the 11 minute mark to give Vernon a 1 to 0 lead.

Thad Kellin evened the count a minute later, however.

THREE STRAIGHT GOALS

Clippers forged ahead in the middle frame with three straight goals while holding Vernon scoreless. Bill Sutherland scored the first one with Doug Martinson finding the Vernon net on a pass from Red Carr to give Nanaimo a 3 to 1 lead.

Sutherland slammed in his second goal of the game three minutes later and the Clippers went into the final period with a 4 to 1 advantage.

Goalie Keith Langill in the Nanaimo net blocked a shot by Bud Gourlie in the final period, but the Vernon star succeeded on his second try and cut the Clippers' lead to 4 to 2.

Dave MacKay and Carr combined a few minutes later, with MacKay doing the scoring.

LINE-UPS

Nanaimo—Langill; MacKay, Kilburn; Klein; Mann, Stanley. Subs: Hoppus, Dubec, Martinson, Carr, Neilson and Sutherland.

Vernon—Saunders; Babroski, Rutten; Gourlie; Witt, Krowchok. Subs: Wardrop, Smith, Dobbie, Zelma and Hughes.

Lacrosse Makes Plans for Season

Box lacrosse took its first step toward the 1942 wars, Tuesday night, with the holding of the annual meeting of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association and the re-election of all last year's officers, with the exception of Ray Ditchburn, secretary, now with the army and out of the city.

Sid Thomas was re-elected president; Ed Popham, first vice-president; Harry Essler, second vice-president; Roddy McInnes, treasurer, and Frank M. Shandley, secretary, the last named to serve his first year.

From information given by different club representatives, a promising year, with plenty of competition, is promised. A four and possibly five-team circuit will operate in Victoria. Definite entries are last year's provincial intermediate champs, James Bay; the 1941 B.C. junior titleholders, McLean's Bakery; Jokers, and an altogether new team, Douglas Tire, to be run by Gus Munro.

SERVICES MAY ENTER

The fifth team, which may possibly enter, will be a united services squad with the best from the three branches of the forces. More than 25,000 people stopped at the Sports Centre ticket-wicket during last year's 45 games for the largest season attendance yet known by the indoor game in this city.

To make the senior circuit more popular here efforts will be made to tie up the local league with the recently-organized Commercial League on the mainland with Victoria clubs playing home and away games. If this cannot be arranged it is probable that each of the local clubs will play one of the Vancouver squads here during the season.

Thomas will represent the Victoria body at the annual meeting of the B.C. Box Lacrosse Association in Vancouver next week. On his return another meeting will be called when more definite action on the coming season will be taken.

B.C.E.R. FORMS A.R.P. SQUADS

With personnel large enough to work in day, night and relief shifts and with equipment adequate to deal with any emergency British Columbia Electric Railway employees have established their own efficient A.R.P. organization.

With it they are now believed to be in a position to meet any air raid hazard, protecting company property, maintaining light, power, gas and transportation services and caring for the welfare of members of the public who are using company property at the time.

Two hundred employees volunteered for service in response to an appeal by A. T. Goward, vice-president, and from this number first aid squads have been selected and assigned to various emergency stations.

General organization of the set-up is under the direction of G. M. Tripp, company superintendent. C. A. Cornwall, assistant superintendent acting as chief employee warden.

Lengths of hose, quantities of sand and other fire-fighting material as well as first aid kits have been installed at vital points while the company has equipped a light service truck as an ambulance unit that will be available for the general public as well as for company use.

Woman From Hongkong Tells of Jap Savagery

By SPENCER MOOSA CHUNGKING (AP)—Phyllis Harrop, first foreign woman to escape from Japanese-occupied Hongkong, gave an eyewitness account today of the atrocities committed by the invaders, corroborating the report given the British House of Commons Tuesday by Foreign Secretary Eden.

Miss Harrop said both Chinese and Europeans were victims of the invaders.

SERVANT SLAIN

"My own houseboy was killed—bayoneted in the stomach for no apparent reason," she declared. "Fourteen other Chinese in the same house were killed. My own amah (woman servant) was raped by three or four Japanese soldiers and left in a very serious condition."

"Foreign women also were raped, including an Englishwoman I knew who first was slashed in the face with a soldier's belt. Her husband afterwards found her dead with bayonet wounds in the stomach. "The Japanese did not shoot any of their victims, but invariably bayoneted them to death."

Miss Harrop, an Englishwoman who escaped from the former crown colony in mid-January, said all British, American and Netherlands men, women and children were interned in the Stanley district on Hongkong Island, while prisoners of war were interned at Kowloon, on the mainland.

FED ON RICE, FISH

She said the civilian internees—3,000 British, 600 Americans and 70 Dutch nationals—were given two bowls of rice a day each, in addition to a small ration of vegetables. They also were given fish occasionally, but never any meat.

There was no foreign food available, she declared, since the Japanese gathered up all the small stocks in the shops and warehouses and shipped them off to Japan.

Must Act Soon On War Gardens

If Victorians wish to take advantage of the city's war garden scheme in time to make it pay dividends this year, they will have to start work immediately, W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent said today.

His statements were prompted by an unusual apathy towards the war garden scheme. To date, he said, only five applications have been received for city-owned vacant lots on which Victorians may grow gardens.

The city charges a $2.50 rental on the lots and plows and discs them for another $2.50.

The garden scheme was revived here this year in the belief citizens would welcome an opportunity to grow their own produce to avoid a shortage here and save their money. So far, according to Mr. Warren, the scheme has not taken.

"It is quite likely that there will be a serious shortage of winter vegetables from California," Mr. Warren said. "It is logical to assume that trucking, gasoline and rubber restrictions will limit the amount of shipment over highways and railroads are expected to be running to capacity on war business. In that event it is doubtful if there will be any provision for bulky, perishable goods."

He saw added advantages in home gardens in the recreational value they afforded, together with the benefits of securing greens while they were garden fresh.

To those who contemplate cultivating vacant lots he issued advice against careless selection of crops. Some ground was not suitable for certain vegetables, he said, urging gardeners to select the type which would give the best yields.

Ambulance Group Geared for War

Col. G. Allison, chief commissioner, St. John Ambulance Association, with headquarters at Ottawa, is at the Empress Hotel today in the course of an inspection tour across Canada.

This morning the commissioner had a conference with G. H. Stevens, president of the B.C. division of the St. John Ambulance Association, discussed brigade matters and inspected local units.

This evening he will speak at the annual meeting of the association at Government House.

Discussing St. John Ambulance affairs in a brief interview this morning, Col. Allison said the organization was fully geared to the war program and was prepared for any possible emergency.

The possibility of air attack on this coast had not been overlooked, every contingency had been explored and in the event of trouble the smoothly-working machinery of the organization would function 100 per cent.

The closest co-operation, he said, was being maintained with all organizations charged with the safety of the civilian population.

He added he was impressed with the efficiency of the A.R.P. organization throughout Canada, particularly on the British Columbia coast.

Prince Rupert Seeks Protection

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C.—Concern in this city over the disposition of Japanese on the Pacific coast and adequate defence measures for the safe protection of Prince Rupert has been evident for some time. Last week the matter came before the meeting of the Rotary Club and the following resolution was sent to Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King:

"Because of the prime strategic importance of the city of Prince Rupert in the defence of the Dominion of Canada on the Pacific coast this club condemns the inertia of the Dominion government in defence matters relative to this city and demands immediate evacuation or internment of all Japanese, whether Canadian born or otherwise, together with all other alien enemies and also demands that immediate action be taken to supply the city of Prince Rupert with proper protection facilities and proper and adequate defence equipment and munitions to combat the type of attack employed in modern warfare and requests an immediate reply as to what action is being and will be taken."

Six appeals were on file for the zoning board of appeal hearing set for Thursday, City Hall officials said today.

Store Workers Stage 'Air Raid'

Three air raid "casualties" were treated and a synthetic fire quenched following a "bomb-hit" on the Hudson's Bay Company store here Tuesday night. The work was carried out efficiently by A.R.P. workers drawn from the ranks of employees who also guided to the safety of the basement all their co-workers not engaged in air raid work themselves.

The demonstration, staged in the presence of Insp. A. H. Bishop, Chief Civil Protection Officer, started when all lights were extinguished soon after an "air raid alarm" was sounded and fire-fighting squads in helmets and boots raced to the roof where "spotters" had reported the bomb hit and the fire.

Meanwhile wardens patrolled all entrances, nurses of the first aid squads treated casualties on the spot before taking them to the basement on stretchers and spare members of the staff were shepherded to the shelter in the basement.

When word was received that the telephone switchboard had been put out of commission motorcyclist messengers relayed dispatches to A.R.P. headquarters. The "all clear" was sounded 17 1/2 minutes after the first alarm had been heard.

"If every other building were so well equipped we should have no trouble," said Insp. Bishop after the demonstration. Corp. D. W. Taylor of the C.P. branch, B.C. Police, also witnessed the demonstration and added his praise. Others to see the show were A. J. Watson, store manager, and representatives of the F. W. Woolworth Co. and the St. John Ambulance Society.

Japs Say Cruiser Sunk

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts, AP)—Imperial headquarters, claimed today a Japanese cruiser squadron operating in the Indian Ocean west of Australia had sunk the U.S. cruiser Marblehead March 2.

Sanich Peninsula branch, Canadian Legion, meeting Monday, made arrangements for the taking over by the branch of the North Saanich Service Club. It is hoped to make the club a community centre where the residents of the district can meet and get acquainted with the members of H.M. forces stationed in the neighborhood. The branch, after a full discussion, passed a resolution deploring the action of the Dominion president and executive in denying the right of the Victoria District Council to participate in the public meeting held on Sunday, March 1. Com. F. J. Barrow gave an exhibition of technical motion pictures taken by himself of different parts of B.C.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE

QUICKLY RELIEVED
If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.
For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Stores or any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.
If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

Players Consume Many Breakfasts

To say that breakfast has become the most important meal of the day to Percy Waram and Margalo Gillmore, leading players of "Life With Father," which comes to the stage of the Royal Victoria Theatre, March 16 and 17, is putting it mildly. In addition to their own seven breakfasts at home, they must face three more at each performance of "Life With Father," one in each of the three acts, with an additional three on matinee days.

This makes a grand total of 31 breakfasts weekly, which would seem to be enough to stagger the capacity of pie-eating contest winners.
In every audience there are always a few people who discount such statistics with the simple formula: "Of course they don't really eat." But in this instance the wisecracks are wrong. The actors not only eat those breakfasts, but they eat them hot, and perfectly served, exactly as they would at home.

CADET THEATRE

It's laughs for two, when M.G.M.'s new comedy star, Red Skelton, and lovely Ann Rutherford fall in love in "Whistling in the Dark," hilarity-thriller now at the Cadet Theatre. Conrad Veidt and Virginia Grey are also featured in the rib-tickling story of a radio "crime creator" caught up in his own "perfect crime."

RIO THEATRE

A triangular romance shared by Jack Oakie, Kenny Baker and Ann Miller forms the basis of RKO Radio's new musical offering, "Radio City Revels." Bob Burns, Milton Berle, Helen Broderick and other celebrities are also in the cast, and is currently at the Rio Theatre.

VICTORY LOAN TOTAL UP TO $979,217,100

OTTAWA (CP)—Latest tally in Canada's Second Victory Loan shows a national total of $979,217,100, the national war finance committee said today. The figures embrace cash subscriptions of $527,099,100 and conversions of $152,118,000.
It is expected to take about four weeks to compile the final totals.
The number of subscribers recorded up to today was 1,506,401.
Returns since Sunday show that 199,885 more employees of factories, stores and offices have been added to the total, together with 108,148 to the subscriptions arising out of the general canvass, said the committee. The cumulative total of subscriptions under the employee canvass stands at 674,221 for a total of $60,281,350.
In the general canvass more than 800,000 people subscribed an average of approximately $320 each.

Belgian Cardinal Denounces 'New Order'

NEW YORK (CP)—The Vatican radio said that Joseph Ernest Cardinal Van Roey, Archbishop of Malines, has caused a "notable" pastoral letter to be read in the churches of his diocese, calling on Belgians to be "faithful to their fatherland, proud of its past and confident of its future."
As heard by CBS here, the broadcast said the cardinal had stated that "no new order can be beneficial that does not recognize the historic order established by God, in which individuals, families and peoples, all humanity, is set up in Christ and for Christ."

CAPITOL THEATRE

If he had only thought of it last summer, Donald Crisp would have celebrated his 35th year in the movies. But he didn't think of it until it was too late. He is always slipping up on his anniversaries. In fact, he didn't think of it until he was working on the coal-mining set which director John Ford had ordered built for "How Green Was My Valley," the 20th Century-Fox film currently at the Capitol Theatre.

"This is my 36th," he remarked, sitting in the gloom of a tunnel, watching the stagehands contrive a fall of rock. "I'm not likely to forget it, either. I thought a couple of times while working in the coal-mining sequences of this picture that it would be my last. A lot of thoughts go through your head when you're pushed flat under 50 tons of black rock."

OAK BAY THEATRE

Ring the bell once again in its true interpretation of American family life, "Life Begins for Andy Hardy," newest of the Hardy Family pictures, offers entertainment plus now at the Oak Bay Theatre. This latest venture, which finds Andy facing life on his own away from family ties and the protective influences of Carvel, results in a sobered young man—an Andy who at last realizes that living constitutes something more than class dances and football games.

DOMINION THEATRE

As timely as the headlines on the pages of this newspaper is the completely absorbing drama which is today at the Dominion Theatre. Called "Dangerously They Live," it tells the story of two ordinary young people who bravely face danger in order to save their country from its would-be backstabbers.

PLAZA THEATRE

Mischa Auer achieved an ambition of his own, and of millions, in "Moonlight in Hawaii," Universal's musical film, the second feature now at the Plaza Theatre. Almost every man has longed to direct an orchestra, and Mischa had the opportunity when he appeared as an orchestra leader in this picture.

Babes in Arms Opening Tomorrow

Vaudeville, that colorful department of the theatre which is fast fading out, flourishes again in "Babes in Arms," starring Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland and opening tomorrow at the York Theatre.

As the spirited story of this new musical unfolds, a score of old-time variety troupers come to the fore, discourse on their past achievements, bringing back the headline glories of the two-day.

Among the former vaudeville celebrities who appear in "Babes in Arms" are Irene Franklin, Harry Fox, Grace Hayes, Patsy Moran, Lila Bliss, George McKay, Neely Edwards, Margaret Young, Joe Calis, Rube Demarest, Pat West, Henry Rockmore, Kay Des Lys and Lelah Tyler.

4 Newcomers to Kildare Family

The "Dr. Kildare" series, which in each picture has introduced a newcomer in the cast, usually thus boosting the player along the road of screen success, has more than its usual share in "Dr. Kildare's Victory," newest adventure of the young doctor and his veteran preceptor, which opens tomorrow on the Atlas screen.

The picture marks the debut of Ann Ayars, Hollywood's newest screen beauty, brought from the concert stage and playing the feminine lead in this, her first picture.

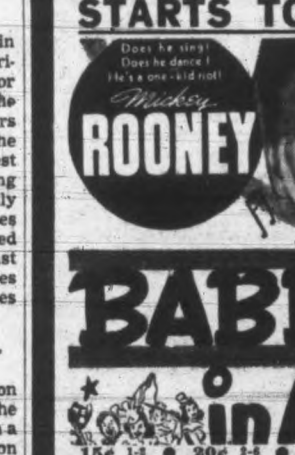

Bette Davis in Powerful Role

The scheming of a ruthless, power-mad woman whose greed forces her to sacrifice her lovely daughter, defraud her brothers and virtually murder her husband, motivates the dynamic plot of "The Little Foxes," starring Bette Davis, which will open at the Capitol Theatre shortly.
The role of the grasping woman is said to be Miss Davis' most difficult and certainly her most powerful screen portrayal to date. Sharing acting honors in this Samuel Goldwyn production are Herbert Marshall, Teresa Wright, Richard Carlson and five members from the cast of the original New York stage success from which the RKO radio release was adapted.
